Police Officer Is Recovering

Frank Reynolds May Be Able To Return To Home In Few Days

BRONICH'S BODY TAKEN TO FARRELL

At the New Castle hospital today it was stated that Officer Frank Reynolds, who was badly slashed in the face in his battle with Paul Bronich on Saturday afternoon was getting along well and that his condition is steadily improving. The indications are, it was said, that Officer Reynolds would be able to return to his home in a few days.

Two cousins and other relatives of Paul Bronich residing in Farrell, Pa., on Monday afternoon claimed the body of Bronich, although partial arrangements had been completed for the funeral services and burial here. As blood relatives, their claim was first and the body was turned over to them.

It was removed to Farrell Monday by Undertaker Reinsel of Farrell, where funeral services will be held and burial take place.

Officers Seize Rum Ship Far Out At Sea

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mysterious, rum-laden, the German barkentine Carmen of Hamburg, rode at anchor almost within the shadow of the Statue of Liberty today under strict watch of coast guardsmen. The Carmen was seized while 140 miles at sea and towed here by the coast guard destroyer McCall.

Federal officials refused to divulge why the craft had been seized so far from American shores, especially as the Carmen was purported to be bound from Bremen, Germany, to Halifax. As far as could be ascertained today no formal charges have been made against the ship or her crew of 16.

Government men who went aboard the prize said she contained in her hold 100,000 cases of Scotch whiskey, valued, at bootleg prices at $5,000,000.

"Old Uncle Sam" May Be Brand Of New Whiskey

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—"Old Uncle Sam—"that may be the brand of America's medicinal whiskey of the future.

At the treasury today it was stated that under the plan of General Lincoln C. Andrews, dry chief, for establishment of a semi-official liquors, only one brand will be produced.

All physician's prescriptions for "something for a cold," will call for this brand. No name has yet been designated, but that is the least of the treasury's worries.

The official brand, however, will be guaranteed five years old, aged in wood, of pleasant aroma and absolutely pure.

When the "pre-war" brands now stored in concentration warehouses—to be taken over by the new corporation—are exhausted, such familiar friends as "Old Jordan," "Three Feathers," "Sam Thompson" and "Overholt," once producers of a remarkable state of goodfellowship, will be relegated to the sombre archieves of memory.

Under the plan the government would be able to advertise to the public that "Old Uncle Sam," or whatever it is called, is the only genuine and authorized liquor on the market, all other brands being industrial alcohol or moonshine sailing under false labels.

Police Question Friend Of Girl Found Murdered

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 23—Pittston police today began a careful check of the movements of Patsy Berrezzela, friend of 19-year-old Jennie Visato of Old Forge in an effort to determine whether he had any connection with the slaying of the girl.

The Visato girls body was found Sunday in an open field. She is believed to have been slain elsewhere and her body taken in an automobile to the spot where it was found.

Berrezela despite grilling, has maintained he has no knowledge of the crime.

While police continued their probe the Visato family prepared for the double funeral of the slain girl and her mother who fell dead yesterday after she viewed her daughter's body.

Expert Declares Card Fingerprint Not Like Willie's

Testifies That There Are Differences Shown By Enlarged Picture

SIMPSON ATTACKS HIS STATEMENTS

Enlarged Photo Of Fingerprint On Card Is Admitted As Evidence

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 23.—The fingerprint of Willie Stevens on the state's exhibit S-17 is not identical with the official fingerprint of Willie Stevens today, declared James Herbert Taylor, fingerprint expert of the United States navy, testifying for the defense at the Hall-Mills murder trial.

"S-17" is the calling card of the Rev. Edward W. Hall. The state claims it was found at the scene of the crime and that it bears the fingerprint of Willie Stevens' left index finger.

Different Fingerprints.

Robert H. McCarter, chief counsel of the defense, had shown the fingerprint expert greatly enlarged photographs of the two fingerprints, and asked:

"Is there any difference between these two fingerprints, and are they made by the same person"?

"They were not", said Taylor.

Taylor said there was "no doubt whatever" that the two fingerprints were not the same.

"Explain why you say that", McCarter said.

"I find", said the witness, "that following line X-L on D-28 I find an abrupt ending. Counting over two lines on D-28 I find a well defined dot. These are not found on D-27 (Willie's official print).

"On D-27 from the point marked '2' to the point marked '5' there are

YOUTH KILLS AGED COUPLE

Hold Young Man At Mansfield On Charge Of Killing Two

ALSO TELLS POLICE HE ATTACKED WOMAN

(International News Service)

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 23.—George Thomas, 23, was held incommunicado in county jail here today following confession that he beat an aged woman and her husband to death and criminally assaulted their 23-year-old adopted daughter.

The youth walked into police headquarters late last night.

"I've got plenty of trouble", he announced. "I've just killed two people."

Find Two Dead

Police rushed to the home of Ben Greenwald, 65, a carpenter, and found the body of Greenwald in the basement, covered with an old rug. He had been beaten with a hammer. In her bedroom they found the body of Mrs. Greenwald, also clubbed to death.

The adopted daughter of the couple, Mrs. Bonetta Sherman, said after killing the couple Thomas waited in the house until she returned, dragged her into her bedroom and assaulted her.

Thomas claimed the argument arose when he went to Greenwald's home to borrow a shotgun and was refused. He and Mrs. Sherman had been sweethearts for a year, he declared.

Affidavits charging murder in the first degree were filed by the prosecutor, who this morning went to Common Pleas Judge Galbraith to arrange for calling the grand jury, which recessed two months ago.

Cleveland Detectives Raid Rendezvous Of Crime Group At Berea

Thirty-Three Detectives, Heavily Armed, Swoop Down Upon Criminals' Retreat

Thirty-Eight Persons And Large Amount Of Loot Captured

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23.—Armed with riot guns and tear gas bombs and protected with bullet proof armor, 33 Cleveland detectives early today wiped out what is believed to have been the rendezvous of one of the most vicious crime groups in the state.

The officers descended on the house, located near Berea, after a careful rehearsal. They captured 28 men and 10 women. Among these are several persons with long criminal records, they said.

Stolen Autos Recovered.

Twelve stolen automobiles and thousands of dollars worth of loot was recovered.

The detectives announced their appearance by heaving a tear bomb into the midst of the group. The occupants quietly submitted to arrest. When searched nearly a suitcase full of weapons was taken.

After the prisoners had been carted to jail the officers hid in underbrush near the house and later trapped three more men as they drove up with their automobiles loaded with stolen property.

One murderer and two escaped convicts are said to have been among the captured persons.

Not Seriously Hurt—Driver Of Automobile Is Instantly Killed

(International News Service)

MARION, O., Nov. 23.—Charles Paddock, the world's fleetset runner, today proved himself to be one of Americas best reporters.

The Californian was on an interurban car enroute from Columbus to Marion where he is scheduled to give a lecture tonight.

As the car rounded a curve at Worthington it struck an automobile driven by Frank Osbon, 50, a farmer. Osbon was instantly killed.

The motorman threw on the emergency brakes so suddenly that several passengers were thrown head-over-heels the length of the car. Paddock was catapaulted against a seat and badly shaken up.

The runner then broke all Olympic and other records in getting to a farm house where he telephoned International News Service coresponddent here the story.

"Everybody is pretty badly bruised" Paddock declared, but he refused to mention his own injuries.

Roast Pork For Jail Prisoners On Thursday

Sheriff and Mrs. H. M. Reynolds are preparing to give prisoners a real Thanksgiving dinner in the county jail. Roast pork, sweet potatoes, apple sauce and other substantials will be on the bill of fare, with a suitable dessert. There are about fifty prisoners in the jail, so that it will mean considerable extra work to prepare a dinner of that kind.

Better Business Bureau Hears Excellent Addresses On Monday Night

Speaking in highly complimentary terms of the civic enterprise that had given to this city, the Scottish Rite Cathedral, which he said, gave this city a more attractive and better equipped place for community effort than even New York City, M. F. Tobias of Denver, Associated Advertising clubs of the World, speaker and business expert, as the principal speaker of the dinner meeting of the Better Business Bureau held at the Elks' club last night, gave an interesting address on the problems of the "Home Town Merchant" and the best way to meet modern tendencies in business.

The meeting was a decided success with forty-five merchants of the city, including members of the Better Business Bureau, in attendance. William E. Gordon, president of the Better Business Bureau, presided. The speakers of the evening included Fred L. Rentz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor William H. Dunlap, A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Charles W. Grafton of the Credit Exchange. The speaking followed an excellent dinner served promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

Gordon Presides

William E. Gordon in anauguratting the program of the evening, spoke on the effort of the Better Business Bureau, to improve conditions for the local merchant and at the same time, the people of the city, by closer co-operation between the merchants and the establishment of principles of business and advertising that would mean the elimination of unnecessary costs of doing business and exaggeration in telling the public of the goods offered for sale.

He then introduced Fred L. Rentz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who spoke at some length on what New Castle means to all its residents and ways and WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Republican party in the Senate negotiated a treaty of political peace with the insurgent bloc today by formally welcoming back Senator Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota into the Republican fold.

Seven Fires Of Incendiary Origin Are Reported This Morning

TOTAL LOSSES ARE ABOUT $250,000

Police Believe Work That Of Maniac Clubber Who Has Aroused City

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 23.—Toledo's "clubber", believed responsible for the murders of six women and attacks upon 10 others, is thought by police to be the crazed pyromaniac who caused seven fires, entailing a loss of approximately $250,000 here early today.

Today's outburst of incendiarism resembles that of two years ago when the city was terrorized by a series of mysterious fires, all created within a few hours and causing damage of several million dollars—mostly to lumber yards.

Special Guards Used

When special guards were placed in every manufacturing plant in the city the outrages ended. Two weeks later the supposed maniac turned to the use of bombs, several homes and flats being demolished. A bomb was placed in a mail box ad-

Gasoline-Electric Car Being Tried Out By Pennsylvania Here

There's a new "Hoodlebug" over on the Pennsylvania Railroad today. A "Hoodlebug" that some of the old timers wouldn't recognize. No steam locomotive, no water tender or coal car and no string of cars in back.

Just one car which has its engine in front, a baggage compartment directly in back, and the passenger compartment, capable of holding 45 people, in back of that.

The new "Hoodlebug" is a gasoline-electric coach which is being tried out on this division for three days. The coach is being sent to various points on the Pennsylvania system for the purpose of experimenting with its feasibility. The car is propelled by electricity, which is generated by a 250 horse power gasoline engine, situated up in the front of the car. There are controls on both ends of the car which obviates the necessity of turning it at the end of a run.

The car will be here until Wednesday night, according to J. A. Appleton, superintendent and is here only in the nature of an experiment.

The figures on this doggy box, that tells me when it's cold or hot, are nearly rubbed completely out, they're just a smeary sort of blot. Falls Through Cellar Doorway

David Lewis, 533 Electric street, is in the New Castle hospital for the investigation of injuries to the head sustained about 7 o'clock this morning, when he fell through a cellar door opening at the Star Market on West Long avenue. X-ray pictures were taken today for the purpose of determining the full extent of the injuries, it being feared that he might have sustained a fracture of the skull.

In turning around at the market, he fell through the open cellar door, which he did not know about, sustaining a cut and other injuries to the head. He was removed to the hospital, where it was stated late today that the full extent of his injuries were not yet known.

POLITICAL PEACE TREATY IS MADE BY REPUBLICANS

ousted 18 months ago. Under the rule this will give Frazier the chairmanship of the Senate Indian affairs committee in the seventieth Congress.

At the same time Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farm-Labor, of Minnesota, was invited to enroll himself with the Republican party in the coming session. As yet Shipstead has not given Republican leaders a definite reply. In all probability, however, he will avail himself of the offer, as he must stand for re-election in 1928.

All opposition to Frazier's return to the Republican fold has disappeared. The pending contests to unseat Senators-elect Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William S. Vare of Pennsylvania may keep both men from voting in the organization of the new Senate. If this should come about the Republicans would need the votes of both Frazier and Shipstead to organize the Senate.

The charges raised against Arthur R. Gould, the Republican nominee in Maine's special senatorial election next week, made the need even more imperative. Hence peace was negotiated.

Republican leaders neither asked nor were granted any assurances the North Dakotan would vote with the party on general legislation. On the contrary, the peace treaty covered only the restoration of his seniority rights.

Burned This Morning

The C. A. Mauk Lumber Company was burned this morning with a loss of $200,000. The city street department stables, the Banner Lumber Yards, Henry P. Streicher Contracting Company's sheds, a building in the rear of an apartment house and a New York Central freight car were burned. In each instance, fire department officials say, evidence pointed to incendiarism.

Later the Citizen's Ice Company was partially burned with a loss of $10,000.

The only clue was the meagre description of a man seen leaving the box car shortly before it was burned. A few minutes later the alarm from the Banner Company was turned in.

Police officials believe that a super-madman, of almost unbelievable craftiness, is the sole author of the many crimes.

They frankly admit that they have not discovered the slightest thread of evidence which might aid them in trapping the lunatic.

means of improving conditions for the people generally.

Among other things, he said, "I am interested in New Castle because New Castle has been good to me and I am grateful. I have always and still do urge that the people patronize the home merchant, and snub the peddler. He sells nothing but what can be purchased from the local merchant for less and you have no comback, if it is not right. I am willing to co-operate with the merchants of this city in every way that will boost them and the city and I will go farther than any other man for the advancement of the interests of the city and its people. All you need to do is to call on me and you will find me ready to co-operate in anything that is for the benefit of the community."

Better Business Bureau

C. W. Grafton, of the Credit Exchange, then spoke briefly, on the good that had been accomplished in the past few months by the functioning of the Better Business Bureau and the agreement, which is now effective, to cut out advertising schemes and purchase of tickets, which has always been the bugbear of the business man. All advertising propositions and tickets must have the sanction of the Chamber of Commerce before members will spend their money. He said that since the agreement had become effective that an estimated amount of from $4,800 to $6,000 had been saved by the merchants affiliated in the movement.

Mayor William H. Dunlap was then called upon for remarks and reiterated his oft repeated statement that the authorities of this city were ready and willing to co-operate with the merchants, especially in the elimination of that nuisance, the door to door solicitor and peddler. He said that the police could not carry on this work successfully alone and unless the people of the city co-operated, it would be impossible to get rid of the nuisance. He told of the great number of peddlers and solicitors turned down in the past three years and barred from the city and asked that if the merchant would make this effort more effective, that they tell the police before it was too late for action. He showed how thousands of dollars had already been saved to the people and merchants of the city by the elimination of peddlers and ticket schemes and how much more could be done, if there was closer co-operation. In concluding he called attention to the fact that in A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, had a live wire, who was really doing things for New Castle.

Cooperation Here.

A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was the last local speaker of the evening and stated that the Chamber of Commerce must either be an asset or a liability to the community. He would, he said, make every effort to make it an asset, but that without the united effort and assistance of the members and merchants of the city, he could not do it. He remarked that he had never been in a community where there had been as great cooperation given the business interests as in this city. He suggested that the money already saved and to be saved in the move for the elimination of advertising propositions of a dubious character and the sale of tickets for causes that did not meet with the approval of the committee appointed to investigate, could be spent in the trade territory of the city in legitimate advertising that would mean much to the merchants.

M. F. Tobias, the principal speaker of the evening, was then introduced and gave one of the most inspiring talks of the kind ever heard here.

Among other things he said: "I like the spirit of the west, where I live and where I received my early training, because it is that spirit which never knows when it is licked. It is the spirit which should prevail in every community.

"I have spoken to 570 organizations of various kinds in the east and I have found a something in the attitude of the business men and organizations that I can't understand. It seems that they must know all about a man or position before they are able to take it up or become interested and then they don't seem to appreciate anything that tends to show them how to meet changing conditions.

Listen to Suggestions.

"There have been 319,000 business failures in the United States in the past 21 years. This would indicate, at least, that it might be wise for them to listen to suggestions made by other fellows as to ways of conducting their business. It might reduce the number of failures.

"I believe there are four elements in business today, the storekeeper, the merchant, the clerk and the salesman. We find the town knocker every place. He seems to be more interested in the frozen assets of the tropics, when he could make more money at home than in the everglades of Florida.

"The knocker seems to have a longing for the thistles outside the fence of his back yard rather than the clover in his own yard.

"Too many of us get into a rut from which we do not want to be taken or in which we do not want to be disturbed. It would be better to dig it six feet deep, where it would be possible to rest in peace and not be disturbed.

"Out of town owned stores, mail order houses and peddlers are taking $900,000,000 a year from the merchants of our country. Our local merchants are being crowded from the main streets of our city by the chain stores. It all means that money is going away from our cities and not helping to build them up. The peddler rings the door bell, makes his sale, secures a deposit and is gone. The goods received may not be satisfactory but the purchaser has no recourse in the matter. The home merchant can sell for the same or less than he has to make good. The peddler or chain store employ is only interested in his salary, while the local owned stores are interested in the community. A city can only grow as its local owned stores grow.

Wonderful Building.

"You have a wonderful building in your Scottish Rite cathedral, which I inspected from top to bottom. It is an asset to your community, which gives you better facilities for conventions, etc., than even New York City has. It is a selling point for your city and you should spread the news everywhere.

"I have met and admire your mayor. In him you have a diamond which should have a platinum setting. Get a new city building in keeping with your progressive city.

"The individual owned store has something that a chain store owned elsewhere cannot have. It is personal service and the acquaintance of the people. The spoken word means the satisfied individual.

"Take your younger element and organize a junior Chamber of Commerce. Get them interested in the problems of today so that they may be better able to solve those of the future.

"As steam power resulted in the centralization of industries, so electricity is making for the decentralization of industry. Look forward and be ready for this condition.

"What are you doing to develop an airport? It's the coming solution of transportation. Be prepared before the need is present and not be left to one side and out of luck.

"Clean up your town. Discard the storefronts and signs of 25 years ago. Make the appearance of your city such that it will be known far and wide."

Following the address of Mr. Tobias, it was voted that the Better Business bureau should have meetings once a month on a day of the month and a time and place that would prove most suitable. The tags to be hung in offices of the members of the Better Business bureau stating that the members would not advertise in other than accredited mediums or purchase tickets were distributed.

The members also voted the appreciation of the organization to both the mayor and The News for the assistance given the merchants in the past and for the assistance promised in the future.

EXPERT DECLARES CARD FINGERPRINT NOT LIKE WILLIE'S

but two lines intervening. On the D-28 there are four lines intervening".

"Because of these differences I say there is absolutely no doubt that these fingerprints were not made by the same person".

Enlarged Photo Offered.

On further questioning Taylor asserted there are seven or eight distinct differences in the two prints.

The enlarged photograph—it was three feet by five—was offered in evidence as defense exhibit "D-25".

Under cross-examination the witness admitted no one was with him when he took the negative, developed it or enlarged the picture.

"What percentage of distortion is there in this enlargement"? Simpson asked.

"I couldn't say—and no one else could".

"Don't speak for the world—speak for yourself", Simpson shot back.

McCarter then showed Drummond state's exhibit No. 37. (the comparative fingerprints from Dr. Hall's card and from Willie Stevens left index finger).

Drummond testified he made an enlargement of "S-37" on November 17, 1926. He enlarged them 180 times over the original size, he testified. The enlargements were admitted.

"These also have a certain distortion, haven't they"? asked Simpson.

"Yes".

McCarter asked Taylor to assume that the calling card, "S-17" had been exposed to the air as it lay on the ground near the murder scene, from Thursday night, September 14, 1922 until the following Saturday morning; that it had been picked up and examined by several persons; that it was placed in a package with numerous other articles; taken to Somerville, and examined there and then taken to New Brunswick and not developed until late that week.

"If all these things happened to this card, could the latest print have survived?"

"It could not have survived, in my opinion," said the witness.

"The rubbing of it and the absorpion of the perspiration into the paper would have obliterated most, if not all of the fingerprints."

Fred Sandberg, of Washington, D. C., police department, another fingerprint expert, followed Taylor to the stand. His testimony was largely corroborative of Taylor's.

Sandberg swore the fingerprints on the calling card ("S-17") were not the same as Willie Stevens official print.

"They do not show the same characteristics when held to the light and this one (the official) is so much darker than the other."

The witness then gave a lengthy, technical explanation of why they were different.

Gerhardt Kuhne, who said he has been a supervisor of fingerprint identification in New York City for 12 years was then called.

Kuhne testified he taught the science of fingerprinting for nine or ten years.

Kuhne revealed he is the inventor of a new system of inkless registering of fingerprints, a chemical process, now used chiefly in banks.

McCarter showed him exhibit S-17. Using crayon and paper to illustrate he showed the difference between the print on the card and the fingerprint of Willie Stevens.

"They are not the same man's fingerprint," he testified. He was still on the stand when the court recessed for lunch.

Plans Completed By Local Committee For Elaborate Dance Friday Night

Crowning the social activities of the Thanksgiving season will be the elaborate dancing party to be staged in the Scottish Rite Cathedral by a committee comprised of Donald Russell, Dean Staley and James Hinish.

The hours are from 9 till 1, there will be plenty of dancing and a genral good time for all. The committee feels confident that the dance will be the biggest social event in the history of New Castle.

WIFE'S WAGES

MARRIED men are said to have won a victory in a legal opinion rendered by the attorney general of Minnesota. To a citizen who wanted to know whether wives had a legal right to a regular allowance, he replies:

"There is no law which compels a husband to pay his wife an allowance for housework or to make payments to her at intervals for any purpose."

So that's that ,as they say in England, where men know "how to make women keep their places."

According to the modern American notion, however, there is plenty of law on the subject. The law of fairness, the law of domestic efficiency, the law of economics and the law of marital happiness are all held to rquire that instead of grudgingly doling out irregular sums for a matrimonial partner to maintain herself and run the house on, a husband shall turn to her a definite and adequate share of the family income.

RUSSIAN MARRIAGE

THE Russian leaders are preparing to abolish marriage. A bill has been submitted to the central executive committee, which has legislative functions, providing that casual marital relations be placed on the same basis as registered marriage. The latter is not forbidden, but official recognition of informal marriage as valid is expected to discourage formal marriage.

"We deal polygamy a blow with this law," says the commissioner of justice, "because no one can afford to divide his property among several women."

They deal monogamy a hardy blow. Yet monogamy, which represents the best marriage arrangement worked out by the human race in many thousand years of experiment, will probably survive this attack as it has survived others.

In 6,000 Russian villages the peasants have protested against the new plan by a majority vote. Those peasants will have their way about marriage, as about other matters, when the revolutionary experimenters have passed on.

RADIO PIRATES OF THE AIR

WHEN congress adjourned without settling the control of the air for radio purposes it left undone what it should have done.

Until the Supreme Court decided that the department of commerce had no real authority, order prevailed. Stripped of this authority, there was not much left to guard against a chaotic condition except a sort of gentlemen's agreement between the responsible big broadcasting stations and the display of common sense by the irresponsible little fellows.

That was the time when congress should have acted promptly in the interests of millions of people who have radio receivers. But it didn't. It talked and talked until the end of the session and left disputed measures in the hands of a conference committee. Some members feared a monopoly. Others were obsessed with the idea that politicians would gain control and the country would be flooded with partisan speeches. Few seemed to realize that in the absence of much needed regulation under Federal law pirates of the air would begin to operate.

Nevertheless that is precisely what has happened. Station after station has sprung up, many of them just plain nuisances. If a broadcaster doesn't like the wave length he has been using or has been assigned him all he has to do in existing circumstances is to change it for another—just grab anything he feels like laying hands upon.

A very annoying situation is rapidly developing. Stations have become altogether too numerous. They could be pruned fifty per cent to advantage. For that matter, they could be cut two thirds with the clashes that take place in the air.

The radio public has always had to deal with static. Now it has to contend with the snarling confusion of stations in conflict. For this state of affairs congress is responsible, and it cannot apply the remedy any too quickly.

Record Christmas buying is predicted. It will be wise, then, to get an early start to avoid the rush.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:36. Sun rises tomorrow 6:57.

Country fellow who was looking 'em over at a recent dance said the clothes of the women reminded him of a barbed wire fence, because they protect the property without obstructing the view.

A bishop in Boston complains because the thousands of college students who go to that city from the south and west have their religion neglected while there. We have not heard of any one as yet complain about college students having their football neglected.

A mob of men in England attacked two doctors because the doctors would not give disability benefits to two men who were in good health. Those who are opposed to work will do most anything but work.

Just because a New York man has been arrested three times for stealing taxicabs and taking joy rides in the them he has been sentenced to life imprisonment under the habitual criminal act in that state. In the old days a man would get a death sentence for stealing an old plug of a horse that could hardly walk. How times have changed.

If being in love makes people thin, perhaps that's the reason so many wives get stout.

A preacher at East Liverpool, O. said that there are men who can face the powder on the battlefield but who can't withstand powder on a woman's face. Both are quite hard to get away from at times we will admit.

Turkeys will be scare for most of us at Thanksgiving time if the price is scandalously high.

Automobile owners will pay Pennsylvania about twenty-four million dollars for automobile licenses this year. That ought to help some at Harrisburg.

Gov. Pinchot is going to try and run the incoming legislature according to what we read. He had an awful time trying to run the last one when he was the overiding boss and we hope he will not have a look in at the coming session. He ought to be through when he gets of the payroll and will be.

Electrified eggs are said to keep for years and stay good as fresh no matter how long they are kept. This will be terrible to birds who salt them down when they are plentiful and sell them for strictly fresh when there are none.

There are people who think they know their groceries but after they have cooked them all day long they find they are only apple sauce.

The baby girl in the cradle is kissed by a lot of folks who'll never get the chance after she gets to be eighteen.

Don't forget that whatever is bad for the beehive is bad for the bee.

The supreme court of Denmark has ruled that the great indoor sport known to America as poker is ilegal in that country. The court must have been sitting in a regular American game. It isn't legal in this country, but is mighty popular just the same among all classes.

Have you ever thought of the condition that would arise if all the automobile manufacturers were to combine and all the gasoline makers were to join hands or even if the auto and gas people were to combine, what a terrible condition it would create? It's a wonder it hasn't been done already. It would be worse than a five day week of four hours work a day.

The beauty of owning your own home is that if a man cares to he can eat pie with a knife with impunity for breakfast.

Most people will at least hope there is a Santa Claus until after Christmas.

On December 10 New Castle will see on the streets here a flock of real live reindeer and some regular Eskimos. Nothing like it has ever been seen in this vicinity.

That rough dance known as the Charleston was not popular very long. It took too much work to make it a success.

The first man ever to have been known to go bugs over the cross word puzzle is now in the asyium at Warren, Pa. He thought it was a craze all right.

The beauty of having a heart that sings is that there is no expense for music lessons.

It's the little things that count. A misplaced decimal point has been known to keep a banker at his desk until midnight.

Every now and then we read of a murder being committed in a saloon. One took place in a suds parlor in Pittsburgh last week. This shows palinly that saloons are murderous and law breaking places. It has occurred to us long ago that the saloon should have gone with the coming of the prohibition law. The saloon never was any good.

Today's Storyette.

Freddie took Agnes to the movies every single night. She could see he loved her but she did not encourage him. She did not want to marry a man who was so much shorter than she.

Peer interested her and charmed her, but he was too flirtatious. Who wanted to marry a man who tried to fascinate every girl he met? Not Agnes, indeed.

Clyde appealed to her maternal instinct but she could never, never marry such a lazy man.

Agnes admitted Herman was a wonderful young man. He was sure to amount to something some day. But he was too earnest.

Leslie was so slouchy in appearance that she was ashamed to be seen with him. She liked him very much but she could not marry such a type.

Yes, so glaring were their faults that Agnes did not marry any of them. Besides none of them ever asked her to.

The bust of Governor Ma Ferguson is to be put in the Texas Hall of Fame. After what we have read about Mrs. Ferguson and the kind of a governor she has been that makes the Hall of Fame look pretty bad to us, but it doesn't behoove Pennsylvanians to say much.

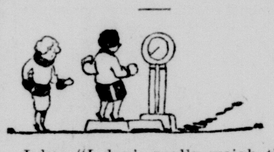
As an offset to those who propose to do six days' work in five days we have those who don't do five days' work in six days.

At last a man has gone crazy working cross word puzzles and Warren has gotten him. Because this is the only case on record for this section of the state for cross word craziness it doesn't mean there isn't any more crazy ones. There's lots of 'em. In fact the crazy houses wouldn't begin to hold all those who are nutty on one question or another.

In England a method has been devised for electrifying eggs that will make them keep indefinitely and it is expected by this method to bring down the price of eggs. Perhaps this is the beginning of the making of an electrical egg layer that can be attached to a wall plug and will produce eggs just as soon as you press the button. We take our hat off to electricity and hope the time will come when we don't have to wait on the convenience of the hen for our morning breakfast.

A woman in Philadelphia, and she is the mother of five children, has been convicted of killing a man. Yes, it was a jury of married men who brought in the verdict, and it is the first one on record. Perhaps after a few more centuries more women will be convicted for killings.

Queen Marie might be some pumpkins as a politician with the natives in Europe, but all her political skill hasn't been equal to the task of coping with the social intrigues and politics she has been up against in this country. She has finally given up in disgust and is leaving for home. America is the land of the free all right and many here are free with the time of a queen.



Joke: "I don't really weigh that much," said the woman. "My clothes make a lot of difference."

If the city of Chicago doesn't drain too much water off the great lakes we can expect Chicago gangmen to be using submarines next.

Those kiddos who doubt there is a Santa Claus will have all doubts removed when old St. Nick, his reindeers and everything comes to New Castle next month. Yes, children, there is a Santa Claus, and this year you will be able to see him.

The idea of having cars come to a full stop beside a standing trolley is a mighty good idea in that it gives the driver an opportunity to devote his entire attention to observing the effect of a high step and a short skirt without danger to himself and his machine.

Candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator in Massachusetts wants to play a hand of draw poker with his opponent to settle the matter. That might be a good idea; it is much cheaper than the primary system and wouldn't come under the ban if the election was questioned.

The time of closing the sesquicentennial has been extended until January 1, 1927, a whole month. But we doubt if in that extra time there is opportunity to make up the losses that have been incurred in operating the big show. If they lose money every day it is open the sesqui will be deeper in debt than ever, but it will give those fighting factions another month to scrap.

Of the 418 possible entries left over in the various quotas for the last fiscal year, 291 belong to the Irish Free State. How is New York recruiting its police force these days?

Elections mean little. Two weeks after they're over, the money is back in the hands of the big fellows.

Mother Grows Old.
The World's Sisters.
He Took a Ride.
She Was Not Coerced.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Grandmother Britain is growing old. The war tired her, with its killed and wounded, its billions of debts, millions of unemployed and disastrous strikes following.

The dominions are young, strong and growing. Now each dominion is made officially the equal of Great Britain. The colonies and Britain form an alliance, not an empire, with Britain ruling.

But the colonies are only officially Britain's equal. They will outgrow and dominate her in time and old England will come to be the European banking office and banking center of brains in South Africa and Australia. But the old British mother still has the Britons, trained statesman, great universities and thinking men. These things mean empire, whatever you may say officially.

The sister of the Wright brothers is married to H. J. Haskell, of the Kansas City Star, and, concerning her, you learn what is true of millions of unknown sisters, that the Wright brothers' sister was a great part of the Wright brothers strength.

She taught school, and when nobody would invest money "in their foolish flying machine," she gave all of hers. When school closed she sat down to sew silk, cotton and canvas to cover wings of model gliders tested by her brothers.

The world hears of Renan's devoted sister, of the sister of the astronomer Herschel, studying the stars for him at night, and the sister of Augustus, wife of the rascal Marc Antony, one of the greatest of the great Roman women.

But millions of self-sacrificing sisters live and die unknown.

William, alias Willie, alias Dan, alias Dominick Raggio, "was taken for a ride." In Chicago this means that you never came back.

Raggio, gangman, bootlegger, hijacker, all around modernist, "bumped off a couple" in a saloon. He got 25 years. His lawyer, who got him out on bail, might better have left him in. Friends took him for a ride and his body, very neatly dressed, was found under a pile of ashes. Criminals sometimes do what the law seems unable to do.

Another complication in the annulment of the Vanderbilt-Marlborough wedding. Consuelo Vanderbilt-Marlborough-Balsan, denying that she was forced to marry her duke, calls the yarn a slander on her parents.

Everybody that saw her at the time of the wedding can testify that she seemed cheerful about it.

She changed her mind afterward, naturally. Any American girl whose father buys her a duke for seven million dollars is apt to find the price too high.

America reads with horror that Russia proposes to "abolish all legal differences between registered and unregistered marriages." There is no danger, however, of marriage entirely being wiped out.

Women will see to that in Russia and everywhere. They have learned by sad experience that men are bad enough, even with marriage laws to tie them down.

Who has the consolation in defeat that he was right.
Who can meet a contrary opinion without getting angry.

Who can treat with respect the man who disagrees with him.
Who has made a friend of some great book.

In Day's News

Canada is about to make the personal acquaintance of another member of the Royal family, Prince George, the fourth son of his Majesty, who is to cross the Dominion on his way home from duty in the Far East as a sub-lieutenant in the British navy. He is the only one of the King's sons to make his whole career in the navy. The sea service is an exacting one, and it is inevitable that the sailor prince should be less well known to the public than his brothers. Physically, he is perhaps most like Prince Henry, his soldier brother, and is, indeed, an excellent type of the vigorous young English manhood so characteristic of the navy. He has the personal charm, the frank human sympathy for which the Prince of Wales is noted, and his popularity in the service to which he is devoted owes nothing to his rank. "P. G.," as he is familiarly known, is himself too deeply imbued with the essential spirit of the service to have wished to stand on any other footing.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

"BLUE"?

A fit of "blues" is as much a physical ailment as a fit of any other kind.

When the world begins to get "blue—violet—indigo", there is something the matter with your body—not your eyesight or the world.

A case of the "blues" is as much an intoxication as a drunken spree. The body is drunk with the poisons in the system.

Efforts of the will to be cheerful are only partly successful until the poisons have been eliminated.

When you are blue, DON'T:

1. Make important decisions until the spell is passed.

2. "Speak your mind" to your friends.

But DO:

1. Watch your posture. Stand up straight. Sit up in your chair. Don't slouch. Bad posture gives rise to congestion of the kidneys and excitement of the adrenal glands brings on an excess of their secretion in the blood.

2. Eliminate. Get up a good perspiration. Be sure the bowels are in good condition. The blues are almost universally association with constitpation. Drink large quantities of water. Clean out the system as much as possible.

3. Exercise. A sedentary life allowing an undue accumulation of waste tissues is fallow ground for the blues. Any form of exercise—work in a gymnasium, a tramp, working in the garden—that is vigorous enough to induce a good "sweat" is beneficial. Exercise that brings the large muscles of the legs and trunk into active use and sets the lungs into full play is of the greatest value.

4. Beware of loss of sleep, the use of drugs and the too free use of condiments and highly seasoned foods. They are often responsible for depression of the spirits by causing over-action of the adrenal glands.

"The best mental remedy for the 'blues'," says Dr. J. H. Kellogg, to whom I am indebted for these suggestions, "is to turn the face resolutely toward better things and wait for the poison wave to pass, just as one holds his breath in the surf until the foaming crest has passed over, at the same time endeavoring to remove the causes."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW ABOUT IT.

When is a thief not a thief? In a Broadway, New York, show window there was exhibited last week a great diamond. It was offered to the public for $10,000. There is a story back of the diamond. It is said that it belonged to the collection of the Romanoffs; that at one time it was the property of the Czar of Russia. It was stolen from either the Czar or from the Bolshevik Government of Russia, and the thief tried to smuggle it into the United States. The United States Custom Officials seized it, knowing its history. The Custom Officials sold it as confiscated property, because the thief tried to evade import duty. Instead of holding the diamond for return to its true owner, or to the heirs of its once true owner, the United States Government sold it, and thus gave title to the Broadway merchant who offered it for sale.

If John Smith steals a diamond from Fred Brown, and Smith then sells the diamond to Henry Jones for $10,000, Brown is still the owner of the diamond. If the authorities find the diamond in Jones' possession, it is taken from Jones and returned to Brown, and Jones must look to Smith, the thief, for whatever one may be able to obtain from a thief. The thief in Common Law may not convey title to property, and conversely, the innocent purchaser has no title. "Caveat Emptor" is the English Common-Law warning, that the purchaser should beware. So Brown still owns the diamond.

Why should it be any different with the diamond that was sold to the Broadway merchant by the United States Government. Have those who are left of the Romanoffs no title that should be regarded? It seems not.

WEAKNESSES

Each has his weakness. One for love of gold
Will lie, cheat, haggle till the blood runs cold;
Sharp, calculating, shrewd, he cannot think
How one can sell his brains to fiery drink,
And yet for profit and for selfish ends
The miser, sober-minded, sells his friends.

Another loves the cup. With wine aflame,
He snaps his fingers in the face of fame;
Unfit for duty, negligent and slack,
On all that's worthy oft he turns his back;
For such brief pleasure as the glass can give
With gutter-snipes he sinks at last to live.

Some by ill-temper blast their own careers;
One minute's folly saddens many years,
Few, being tempted, pause to count the cost
Until the cold gray dawn, when all is lost.
Oh, son of mine, think this from day to day:
What for this pleasure must I give away?

Shall I be selfish and be scorned by all?
Shall I let folly drive me to the wall?
Oh shall I pause, ere anything I do,
To think its consequences through and through?
Know this, my boy, when tempted by a vice,
Not one of them is ever worth its price.

POEMS HOVE BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"ODE"

By Arthur O'Shaughnessy

This is one of the most magnificent poems of modern times—yet how seldom we hear it quoted. It mounts with each robust stanza, but its length precludes my quoting it in full. It will be found in its entirety in Palgrave's Golden Treasury, of course, and in practically all the best anthologies. The author lived from 1844 to 1881.

We are the music-makers,
And we are the dreamers of dreams,
Wandering by lone sea-breakers,
And sitting by desolate streams;—
World-losers and world-forsakers,
On whom the pale moon gleams:
Yet we are the movers and shakers
Of the world forever, it seems.

With wonderful deathless ditties
We build up the world's great cities,
And out of a fabulous story
We fashion an empire's glory:
One man with a dream, at pleasure,
Shall go forth and conquer a crown;
And three with a new song's measure
Can trample a kingdom down.

We, in the ages lying
In the buried past of the earth,
Built Nineveh with our sighing,
And Babel itself in our mirth;
And o'erthrew them with prophesying
To the old of the new world's worth;
For each age is a dream that is dying,
Or one that is coming to birth.

Hogan Explains $100,000 Note In Oil Scandal

Doheny Understood Fall Would Be Through With Office When Note Was Passed

DEFENSE COUNSEL ANSWERS ROBERTS

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. — At the time Edward L. Doheny, gave former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, $100,000 on a personal unsecured note—November 30, 1921—the millionaire oil magnate was of the understanding that his friend had but three months more in public life and therefore could not possibly have expected reward at the expense of the Government.

This was the answer today by Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for Doheny, to the allegation of the Government in the Fall-Doheny conspiracy trait that the $100,000 was, in fact, a bribe for Fall's turning over of 30,000 acres of land in the Elk Hill, Calif., naval oil reserve.

Hogan followed Owen J. Roberts, federal counsel, who opened argument for the Government.

Roberts had told the jury the Government expected to prove:

1—The circumstances of the $100,000 transaction clearly indicate "a corrupt agreement, which involved the Doheny company's getting oil leases of enormous value."

2—The lease was obtained without competitive bidding in violation of the law;

3—The construction contract for the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, storage tanks, was not in accord with the invitation, and was based on the granting of preferential rights in all future leasings of lands in the naval oil reserves.

Defense Counsel In Hall - Mills Case Ejected

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 23.—A mild sensation was caused at the Hall-Mills murder trial today when Prosecutor Alexander Simpson had Robert H. Neilson of defense counsel ejected from the court room.

Neilson had been sitting among the officers guarding the jury.

The defense lawyer was escorted from the courtroom by Capt. Harry Walsh.

"Why that red-head planted himself right among the jury guards—how does he get that way?" Simpson remarked.

Torek came to this city 18 months ago from Corry, Pa. Besides the widow he is survived by two children.

Huge Numbers Infest Forests In Deer Hunts

(International News Service)

HIBBING, Minn., Nov. 23.—Deer hunting in northern Minnesota is good this fall farmers and settlers in this region declare with 15,000 hunters on the Range on opening day, November 20.

Closed seasons have not only made the deer population increase in numbers but has made them particularly tame and so will prove easy targets for the hunter's guns, declared Game Warden N. D. Fairbanks.

Fairbanks declared that this was the busiest season because of the fact that many hunters attempt to make their kills before the official opening of the season.

It is also reported that numerous visitors to this country contracted in advance for their deer, paying as low as $15.00. It is declared that they made contracts with shackers and hunters to deliver the animals on their arrival here.

The big game season will close on November 30. Eastern and southern hunters have come to Minnesota in increasing numbers during the last few years and it is anticipated that all records for non-resident hunters will be broken this year.

Houdini's Magic Secrets Live Says Showman's Magician Friend

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Nov. 23.—Did Harry Houdini carry his magic "secrets" to the grave?

Or, if, as according to reports he bequeathed the formula to Alexander Hardeen, his brother, are the secrets solely in the possession of his kin?

Howard Thurston, noted contemporary of Houdini in the field of magic, says "no". In a telegram received here soon after reports were published that Houdini's "secrets" died with him, Thurston said that "the how" of Houdini's stage tricks were known to capable professional magicians generally.:

As far as Houdini's handcuffs, cell and straightjacket escapes were concerned, Thurston said that the key to their mystery is possessed by Harrison L. Davies, a business man of Jackson, Mich.

Davies, sales manager of the Reynolds Spring company, Jackson, was for several years a professional magician.

Davies' Claims.

Davies says he not only knows Houdini's "secrets" but that he has duplicated most of the famous magician's escape stunts and will gladly accept any challenge to repeat them.

"I am no longer in the profession; I never intend to re-enter it, so that what I say cannot be attributed to financial design," Davies said in an interview. "On a wager, or purely to disprove the assertion that Houdini's escape "secrets" died with him, I will gladly do any escape stunt which Houdini did, except one.

"I will not jump handcuffed and shackled, wearing a straightjacket, from Belle Isle bridge, as did Houdini. This is because I am older than I used to be and I would not care to risk the physical shock the stunt would ensue. You must recall that it is many years since Houdini did the stunt.

"But I will escape from any packing box made, as Houdini did; break out of jail; free myself from straightjackets or do any other escape stunt the essaying of which comes in the realm of reason and common sense.

Was Magician's Friend.

"I say this not to discredit Harry Houdini. He was my friend. I do say so only to prove my contention that Houdini's 'secrets' still live. They are know to several men in this country.

"The principles of magic are eternal. Like music, they have certain ramifications beyond which they do not go. All magic is built upon these principles.

"Houdini was the first man to capitalize the escape art in any considerable way. He deserves every credit for it. He was one of the greatest performers and showmen of all times.

"Because Houdini's secrets are known to some others does not mean everyone can do his stunts. To execute Houdini's escape tricks calls for much physical and nervous strain not possessed by everyone.

"To be able to do the stunts does not mean one could make a professional success of them. Something more must go with them than the doing—showmanship. That too is an unusual possession in the sense Houdini possessed it."

More than 20 years ago, when Houdini was abroad, building the reputation which was to bring him fortune in the United States and carry him to Broadway, a street which formerly had refused him audience, Davies was amazing Detroiters with his escape stunts.

Newspaper accounts of his exploits are still obtainable in newspaper files.

Davies Did Stunts.

On June 14, 1906, Davies, who at that time resided here, amazed police by his easy escape from a cell in the Trumbull avenue police station.

"As was the case in previous exhibitions," said a newspaper of June 15, 1906, "Davies was locked in one cell, handcuffed and ironed, with the leg irons also attached to a pair of handcuffs, and his clothing was locked in another cell.

"In just nine minutes he appeared before the officers, having taken off the irons and opened three doors, each fastened with a lock and bar."

Davies had previously escaped from cells in Central station.

"He had me puzzled," said Chief of Detectives Edward H. Fox. "I have only praise for Houdini as an escape artist, but I want to say that Davies had the stuff, too."

Escaped From Handcuffs.

Police also tell how they manacled Davies and saw him locked, in a massive vault at a local department store.

Seventy-five invited guests were present. Davies, wearing only an undershirt and trousers was searched by the detectives.

The combination lock that opened the vault was contained in a steel box with only two small openings for the purpose of changing the combination. To make sure that Davies did not tamper with the lock postage stamps were placed over the openings.

A curtain was hung across the vault and Davies entered. The manager of the store locked him in. In a few minutes a muffled sound of handcuffs falling to the floor echoed inside the vault. A minute later the inner door of the vault creaked and faint sounds issued from the outer door. It was just 13 minutes from the time the vault was locked until the ponderous doors swung open and Davies emerged from behind the black curtain.

On another occasion, when police chiefs and sheriffs were holding a convention here, Davies escaped from the handcuffs which Col. William A. Pinkerton declared were invulnerable.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

High School Play To Be Presented December 8 And 9

Dramatics Department To Again Show Talent Of Local School

The dramatic department of Senior High School, entering its third year of existence, has an enviable record of successes which holds present members of the class up to a high standard of achievement. "Come Out of the Kitchen," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Daddy Long-Legs," "The Goose Hangs High," "The Whole Town's Talking," "Peg O' My Heart," all played to large and enthusiastic audiences.

Stars in these earlier plays are now receiving recognition in larger fields. Evelyn Pearson has been prominent in dramatics at Pennsylvania College for Women, while Betty Glover and Ruth Lewis are members of the new dramatic club at Westminster. Irene Meermans is the only sophomore chosen for the cast of "She Stoops to Conquer" at Carnegie Tech, a tribute to her ability and previous training. Wilhelmina Nothdurft Fogle (Billy Grey) continued her training in the Drama School of Carnegie Tech and is now a professional with a promising future.

New Castle has given generous recognition to the talent of its young people, and they have justified that recognition by gaining new laurels among strangers.

This year a comedy-farce has been selected for the first school play, and those who have seen the local performers at work on their rehearsals say that "A Lucky Break" surpasses "The Whole Town's Talking" in its laughter compelling situations.

The dates for performance have been set for December 8 and 9, that there may be no conflict with the Santa Claus pageant slated for December 10.

Turks Make Plans To Restore Shipping At Constantinople

(International News Service)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 23.—A plan is afoot to restore Constantinople to its pre-war eminence as a great port.

In accordance with a decision taken at a recent cabinet meeting the Angora government is to create a free zone at the port of Constantinople and a special joint commission is now on its way here to fix the sites, limits and organization of the zone.

Traders in the city have had their attention drawn to the new state of affairs by the Minister of Commerce and he asks that if the city is to regain its pre-war importance they must co-operate with the new government and establish depots and warehouses.

The Turks are alarmed at the decay of the port since the passing of the foreign trade with Russia and the Angora Turks are anxious to reassure the European Turks that they are no longer jealous of Constantinople and careless as to its interests.

The Turkish Chamber of Commerce is behind the government's decision and they are anxious to establish a free port after the manner of Hamburg.

One of the minor advantages they hope to reap is the fact that merchandise in transit can be disembarked direct and placed in depots without customs or police control. Thus the Persian carpet trade as in the past will be handled in this port with local labor.

Early Christmas Packages Are Already Going Out Of New Castle Postoffice

"Don't open until Christmas" is the sign written across many packages that daily are being sent from New Castle to foreign countries, according to a local postoffice attache.

Although Christmas is more than a month distant, the time required for a package to reach Japan, China and India will be fully consumed by the time the package arrives.

"People must mail such packages early", said a local attache of the postal department today. "Otherwise the package would be late arriving at its destination."

According to the local postoffice attache, there is a large shipment of Christmas packages to China and India; likewise to England, France, Italy and other nations.

"So far there have been few packages received here bearing the sign, 'Do not open until Christmas'. Most of the packages that bear the sign at this time are en route to other countries."

The packages which have been sent have contained all sorts of presents—all of them bearing a message of love and good cheer to parents, relatives and friends in the East and other foreign countries.

Another pathetic thing is the lecturer's belief that radio fans tune out music in order to hear him.

Friendship is the pleasant feeling that exists between people who don't want any notes signed.

"Song Bird" At Eighty-Eight

Veteran Cincinnati Tenor Celebrates His 88th Birthday With Concert

COLD WEATHER BRINGS BEGGARS

By PAUL E. BROKAW.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—Edward Faulkned, Cincinnati's "Old song bird" celebrated his 88th birthday by offering a program of solos before a large audience here.

Gifted with a well preserved tenor voice, although "not as good as it was 50 years ago' he claimed his voice was kept clear by eating an apple a day.

The aged singer indicated that he was worried lest his tone quality should fail "in later years."

Speaking of things to worry about a Cincinnati jeweler has announced that one horse-power would operate no less than 270,000,000 watches for a year.

He added that in the course of a year "the escape wheels of your watch gives 157,680,000 blows" but would not admit that he figured it out himself.

Said to be the first printed history of the world a volume published in 1493 has been presented to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity by Dr. Otto H. Vollbehr noted Berlin book collector.

The rare volume contains 300 pages as well as 1,800 colored and hand-illuminated initials and wood cuts.

"The minds of the people of the world are in the right mood to embrace doctrines of world peace but unless a doctrine of peace is worked out rapidly the opportune time will have passed" declared Frederick J. Libby executive secretary of the national Council for the Prevention of War, Washington, D. C., in an address before the Cincinnati Peace league recently.

"The next war if there is one, would be conducted that the white races of the earth would lose their power and be forever weakened" he stated.

Tony Tedesco, Cincinnati fruit dealer having handled pumpkins practically all of his life suddenly decided that he would like to eat the pie made therefrom, despite the fact that he had lived in America for 35 years without tasting one.

After eating several of the pies that make Thanksgiving famous Tony said he "had to stop because he was eating up all the profits."

Cold weather having brought hordes of beggars to this city citizens have been warned by the department of public welfare to refrain from contributing to their upkeep.

The streets here have been infested with beggars, the majority of them offering various and clever ruses to separate sympathetic passersby from their spare cash the warning pointed out.

AGREED ON VERDICT.

Verdict by agreement was returned at court this morning in the case of the Richmond Boro National bank against Joseph V. Smith. The amount agreed upon as due the plaintiff was $243.50.

Gingersnaps - Um.

We present here a photo taken of Mrs Nancy Baker Galena Ill as she awaited the celebration of her 101st birthday. She tells of the pleasure she had in making gingersnaps for three men who later became presidents of the United States Ulysses S Grant neighbor and fellow-townsman William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt She was also a friend of Abraham Lincoln.

IMPROVEMENT OF PERRY HIGHWAY ENDORSED HERE

County Commissioners Willing To Aid Project To Be Done At Cost Of State

Hiram G. Miller and Rev. Charles G. Jordan interviewed the county commissioners this morning for the purpose of getting their endorsement, for the improvement of the Perry highway.

The matter has been taken up by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the county commissioners of Allegheny county. The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce is asking to have the Perry Highway improved and the entire cost paid by the state.

The route from Pittsburgh would be by way of Zelienople, through Harlansburg, Lawrence county and Leesburg, Mercer county to Mercer, and on through Mercer to Meadville. It is claimed that it would greatly shorten the route from Pittsburgh to Meadville, and that the improvement of the highway would be a great advantage to all of the counties through which it would pass, as well as to the general public.

The county commissioners signified their willingness to endorse the project with the understanding that the cost is to be paid by the state, and a written endorsement will be sent to the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

Charleston Dancer Gets Mixed Up In His Affections

Rejected By One Girl, Plans To Wed Sister, Girl Changes Mind; They Wed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—When cupid dances to the tune of Charleston music, romance, like the flying feet of the dancer, gets all mixed up.

As a result, "Stepping Nicky" Spasbo, 19, a miner, of horning, is a bridegroom today and his bride, who rejected him a few short weeks ago, is the sister of the girl Nicky left waiting at the altar to elope with his first love.

Nicky proposed, in the first place, to Sylvia Netava, 18. She "bounced" him, because, she said, she wanted a career, not a husband.

Nicky, Charleston king of the village, was by no means downhearted. He Charlestoned with Mildred Neteva, elder sister of his erstwhile sweetie. Nicky proposed. Mildred accepted. Papa Neteava presented the pair with a $1,000 dowry. Nicky bought $1,300 worth of furniture.

Then, while Mildred made wedding preparations, along came Sylvia. Nicky forgot his Charleston. Sylvia forgot her career. The reunited couple made a flying trip to Wellsburg, W. Va., and came back Mr. and Mrs. Nicky.

Papa Neteva, meanwhile, called the police to find the missing bridegroom. They found him in Pittsburg—with the new Mrs. Nicky. Papa Neteva said things about the Charleston—but that's another story.

Sentence Two For Mine Negligence

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Mathew Bennett, mine boss of the Glen Dale mine of the Pittsburgh Wheeling Coal Company, at Moundsville, W. Va., was fined $100 and sentenced to serve 60 days in jail, and Ambrose Burno, miner, was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail here today on charges of failure to properly inspect the Glen Dale mine prior to an explosion which cost the lives of five miners there recently.

Justice Albert Gompers, who imposed sentence, found the men guilty of violating two sections of the West Virginia mine law code.

Gompers held that Bennett and Burno were negligent in inspecting the workings of the mine, before the men were allowed to enter it.

Discharge Jury In Metz Case

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 23.—After deliberating 19 hours and 30 minutes, the jury in the case of Joseph G. Metz, Oil City councilman and former safety director, charged with illegal sale of liquor, was unable to agree and was discharged today. The defense charged a "frame up" against Metz, who operates a drug store in Oil City.

Township Must Pay For Horse Hurt On Road

David Syling Secures Verdict Of $170 Against Slippery Rock Township

Liability of a township for failure to keep loose stones cleaned from public highways was demonstrated at court late Monday when a verdict was returned against Slippery Rock township for $170, in a suit brought by David Syling.

In the case, which was tried before Judge Henninger, Syling claimed that a valuable horse had stepped on a loose stone on the road, and had been so badly injured that it had to be killed. It was claimed that the accident was due to the failure of the supervisors to keep the public highways free from stones.

The case was the first of the kind tried here for some time, and establishes the right of a citizen to recover when accidents happen through failure to keep roads in proper condition.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

CHESTNUT STUFFING

If you decide to stuff the turkey for Thanksgiving or Christmas with chestnut dressing this year take three cups of large chestnuts, one-half cup butter, one teaspoon salt, one-half cup cream and one cup cracker crumbs. Shell and blanch chestnuts, cook in boiling water until soft. Drain and mash, adding the butter, salt, cream and pepper to taste. Mix in the cracker crumbs, stuff fowl with mixture same as with other dressing.

MENU HINT

This dinner menu might be used for a Sunday or "company" dinner or for Thanksgiving. One does not have to eat poultry on Thanksgiving day, you know. Wild fowl was more easily obtained in colonial days than domestic meat, it is surmised, so that is one reason for associating fowls with that day—wild turkey and wild goose being shot for the occasion.

Sick Man Offers $50 For Stomach Medicine

"I was a sufferer from indigestion until a druggist advised me to try Adlerika. The results have been wonderful. I eat anything, and can do a big day's work without feeling tired. I wouldn't be without Adlerika if it cost $50 a bottle".—R. C. Culver.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara, and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria".

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results".

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice I have found nothing to excel Adlerika".

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system".

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose".

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In New Castle at Love & Megown's

Counsel In Murder Case Turns Attention To Defense Of Willie

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 23.—Proving to the jury that the eccentric Willie Stevens is innocent of any connection with the mysterious murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills today became the main concern of the "million dollar defense" in the Hall-Mills trial.

The defense believes it has proved that Henry Stevens had nothing to do with the slaying; that it has shown by an array of witnesses that Henry was fishing at his home in Lavalette, N. J., 50 miles from De Russey's lane on the night the couple were shot to death.

So now the defense has turned to the task of clearing Willie. They will seek to show:

1. That Willie was not in De Russey's lane on the night of the murder as alleged by Mrs. Jane Gibson, but that he was at home at the hour of the crime.

2. That Willie's relations with the slain minister were cordial; in fact they were real friends.

3. That Willie had no motive that would prompt him to kill.

4. That Willie knew Mrs. Mills only casually and that she meant nothing at all in his life.

5. That Willie's fingerprints were not on the calling card found near the bodies.

The defense will undertake to show that exhibit "S-17", the calling card of Dr. Hall found near the bodies, which the state alleges bears the fingerprints of Willie's left index finger is not the one given to investigators four years ago.

Willie himself, as did his brother Henry, will take the witness stand in his own behalf, the defense reiterated. Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall also will testify.

The defense, however, will not reveal beforehand the exact day when either Willie or Mrs. Hall will testify.

Fall-Doheny Jury Is Locked Up Over Night

Jurymen Will Probably Spend Christmas Holidays Under Lock And Key

By GEORGE E. DURNO.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A lock-and-key jury emerged from its first 12 hours of enforced confinement today to hear a "million dollars worth" of legal talent tell them why Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior and E. L. Doheny, millionaire oil operator, should be found guilty of conspiring to defraud the government, and another "million dollars worth" tell why those same nationally known figures should not be convicted.

In all probability the Christmas holidays will find the 12 men of this jury still sleeping in barracks quarters, eating under the watchful eye of deputy marshals and filing into court daily under guard for the list of witnesses scheduled to appear pro and con in this outstanding criminaly case promises a trial of nearly two months.

Opening arguments are expected to take up today's session. Immediately upon opening of court, Owen Roberts is scheduled to open the government's case, outlining in detail the allegations upon which the federal indictment is based. At the afternoon session Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for Doheny will offer the basis of the defense.

King Ferdinand's Condition Same

Queen Marie has cabled the king that she will arrive home December third.

Nome, Alaska, is farther west than Hawaii.

Confesses He Shot Officers

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Thomas (Red) Moran, 20-year-old taxicab driver, confessed slayer of two policemen, was placed in the line-up at Brooklyn police headquarters this morning for identification by victims of a score of robberies.

Moran, a pale-faced youth, walked into police headquarters last evening and confessed to the murders of Patrolmen Edward Byrns and Frank Dazkiewicz in Brooklyn last Friday. He also admitted participation in 15 robberies.

Moran said he was broke, and tired from walking the streets. He dared not ask for lodging for fear of detection by police, he said, and he knew that a bed would be waiting for him at headquarters.

FOR Acid Stomach
PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

Bridge Project At Lawrence Street Revived

Comes Before Councilmen At Meeting This Morning

City council today discussed the proposed North and Lawrence street bridges and it is probable that within the near future council will pass legislation opening Lawrence street.

Councilman Davies developed the discussion by remarking that "it is time we are getting some relief for traffic." He mentioned that the city should do something to secure the two bridges.

"You spoke wisely," said Councilman Genkinger.

"Ellwood City and New Castle pay 72 per cent of Lawrence county taxes," said Superintendent of finance William Burns.

"Let us take this matter up with the county commissioners," suggested Mr. Genkinger.

"I understand that the reason for the report being thrown out was because Lawrence street had not been opened," said Solicitor White.

"We should open the street and the viewers report will probably be approved by the grand jury," he added.

"The city should have two," Mr. Davies contended, meaning at North and Lawrence streets.

Councilman Burns informed council that the city owns land on the east bank of the North street proposed bridge.

Defendant Wins In Auto Sale Case

In the case of Mrs. Susie Foster against the Universal Sales Company which was tried before Judge Hildebrand yesterday the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The case was one in which plaintiff had purchased an automobile from defendant on the payment plan. Mrs. Foster claimed that when she found that she was unable to meet the payments she had taken the machine to the company and stored it and that there was nothing due on it at the time.

The sales company claimed that when the machine was brought to their place of business that the payments were in default and that they had stored it for ten days. As it was not redeemed in that time it had been sold to another person, Mrs. Foster thereby losing the car and the payments she had made.

Nova Scotia was named Markland by the first discoverers, but received its present name from Scottish immigrants to offset Nouvelle France and New England.

Court Sustained In Opinion On Railroad Case

Supreme Court Affirms Lower Court In Case Of Phillips Against B. & O. Company

In an opinion handed down by the supreme court at Philadelphia yesterday, Judge Hildebrand was affirmed in the case of Norman E. Phillips against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. This was the first case in which a decision has been rendered on a case carried up since Judge Hildebrand went on the bench.

The case was one in which Phillips sued the railroad company for damages for personal injuries sustained while in the course of his employment. It was brought under the employers' liability act. Phillips, who worked at New Castle Junction, was struck by some lumber which another employe had thrown into a passageway. The main point at issue was whether or not Phillips was engaged in interstate commerce and would come under the interstate commerce act.

The jury which tried the case awarded Phillips a verdict of $5,500 against the railroad company. The company made a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict. After arguments Judge Hildebrand sustained this motion, which meant that Phillips did not come under the provisions of the interstate commerce act. The case was appealed to the supreme court, which just handed down its decision.

Brewster And Newly Acquired Wife Are Sued For $200,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. — Eugene V. Brewster, millionaire movie magazine publisher, and Corliss Palmer, Georgia beauty, who he married last month in Ensenada, Mexico, today were defendants in a $200,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Eleanor Brewster.

Mrs. Brewster charges that she still is the legal wife of the publisher, claiming that the Mexican divorce and subsequent marriage were a part of a conspiracy to injure her marital rights.

A warrant of attachment for $50,000 was granted upon the complaint and accompanying affidavit. Brewster and his new bride are now living in Hollywood, California.

The annual observance of Thanksgiving Day as a national custom in the United States was due largely to the influence of a woman, Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, who advocated it for twenty years in the editorial columns of Godey's Lady's Book.

Are You Driving Too Hard?

Overstrain Often Disturbs Bodily Functions

HURRY, worry and overwork throw a heavy strain on the bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to be overtaxed and become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste is inclined to give rise to a dull, tired feeling and, often, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is sometimes shown by burning or scanty passages. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills, a tested stimulant diuretic. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Telephone Service U. S. To England Is Planned For 1927

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 23.—As an outcome of consultations between representatives of the British Post Office and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, it is hoped that a contract will be signed to open a commercial telephone service between the United States and England at the beginning of next year.

Officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are now in London for the purpose of discussing technical details, costs, and charges. Arrangements for the American end of the project will be made by the company.

Interviewed by International News Service, a high official of the British Post Office said that as far as practicability was concerned, nothing stood in the way of the scheme.

"There are other considerations, however," he said, "and some caution has to be observed in order that no loss to England may be incurred by the institution of a trans-Atlantic service.

"For some time past daily calls have been made to New York and other cities in the United States, and the conversations have been as clear as between London and Ealing or New York and Long Island.

"It is very likely that telephone calls will be possible not only to New York, but Chicago, Philadelphit, Atlantic City, Pittsburgh, and other American cities in the near future."

Centre County Apples Freezing On Trees

Many Potatoes Rotting In Ground Because Of Wet Weather In Late Fall

BELLEFONTE, Nov. 23.—Cold weather has caught many Centre county farmers with a portion of their apple crop still on the trees, part of their potato crop yet in the ground and much of their corn unhusked all because there was so much wet weather that farm work was at a standstill at least half the time during the fall months.

Hundreds of bushels of apples still on the trees have been nipped with frost and the only use that can be made of them now is for cider purposes, but the demand for apple juice in this section is not great enough to justify farmers picking the fruit for that purpose and thousands of dollars worth of apples will be a total loss.

While many farmers have not got all their potatoes out of the ground the men in charge of the prison farms at Rockview penitentiary went right ahead with their tubers, regardless of the wet weather and dug a little more than 11,000 bushels.

Small Hope For Entombed Miners

Pumping Water From Mine Without Much Hope Of Miners Being Alive

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 23.—With huge pumps lowering the water level in the flooded Tomhicken colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company here at the rate of 5,000 gallons a minute, the seventh day of entombment for six trapped miners brought no signs of life from their water-logged prison, today.

Small hope was held out that the miners would be found alive. With one four-inch bore hole, leading down 100 feet to the high breasts of the workings completed, two more holes were being bored into the mine where the six men sought refuge from flood waters last Tuesday. An electric light signal, lowered through the bore hole, brought no response from the miners.

Debris clogged pumps have delayed the rescue crews somewhat in their efforts to reach the level upon which the miners are entombed, but few of the miners believe that they will find the entombed men alive after they succeed in digging through to the gangway.

Two West Newton Business Men Held On Serious Charge

Fire And Explosions Wreck Buildings; State Police Investigate.

(International News Service)

WEST NEWTON, Pa., Nov. 23.—Alfred Ross and Gunno Estosisto, merchants whose places of business here were badly damaged by an explosion and fire here early yesterday, today faced a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph Walton following a gruelling examination before state police.

State police questioned the pair about circumstances surrounding the explosion and fire which did $25,000 damage.

According to witnesses, an automobile, which drew away from the scene shortly before an explosion rocked the buildings, first excited suspicions.

The fire gained great headway within a few minutes after the blast, firemen said, and stock in the two stores was badly damaged before the flames could be extinguished.

Authorities checked reports that the two merchants recently sought to increase their insurance policies on the stores.

Italian War Hero Faces Deportation For Grave Offense

Locate Captain Arnoldo Marson On Coast With Members Of Prominent Family

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—The affairs of the prominent Burch family of New York were even more entangled today as the result of the arrest here yesterday of Capt. Arnold Marson, Italian war hero. He is charged with violation of the Mann act. His companion, Mrs. Isabelle Keyes Burch, is held as a material witness.

The woman is the wife of Lyndon Walkup Burch, grandson of the late Bishop Charles Burch of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York. Burch's mother, Mrs. Grace Burch Walkup, Bishop Burch's only daughter, married Captain Marson in 1920.

When Marson and young Burch's wife met they fell in love. Burch agreed to grant his wife a divorce according to the story, that she might marry the captain, but the captain's wife refused to become a party to the plan. The couple then eloped to California.

Captain Marson spent the night in prison in lieu of $5,000 bond. Mrs. Burch was released on her own recognizance. The captain faces deportation.

Junior Team Is Accorded Honor

Winners In Class League Are Lauded At Senior High On Monday

Honor was paid to the members of the championship Junior class football team at a special meeting held at the Senior High School. The students of the Junior class are vary proud of their heroes and shouts and cheers greeted them as they entered the spacious auditorium.

President Harold Sankey held sway for a few moments until order could be restored and he then called on Don Switzer the renowned center of the eleven to come forward and say a few words in behalf of the team. Don told them that he did not know what to say but that he would say something. He said something alright and he was then removed to make room for the coach, George "Peg" Thomas. He explained just how his team won the coveted honor from the rest of the entrees in the league and with his help they hope to win again next season. George retired amid the applause of his admirers.

A motion was made and seconded that class numerals be awarded to the players and this motion was unanimously passed on. Everything seemed to be going along fine but someone was spry enough to remind them that they did not have the necessary cash in the treasury to purchase the desired prizes. This led to a discussion on dues. It seems that most of the class members have forgotten that they are to pay dues to keep their class going. Clarence Murphy has been running his head off from the first of the year in search of a little money but he has yet to collect any of sufficient amount to finance any deep class undertaking.

Miss Edmunds, class supervisor, granted that the team should receive their awards as soon as enough money is collected to buy them.

The meeting ended with a short discussion on the new school ring which is to be contracted for. A prize of five dollars is to be given to the person who turns in the most desirable design for the ring. This design should be turned in within the next two weeks so the contract can be let to one of the jewelers as soon as possible.

CLARION BOY DIGS OLD GRAVE MARKER DATED MARCH 1606

NEW BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 23.—What appears to be the oldest tombstone ever dug up in Western Pennsylvania, dating back more than 300 years, was uncovered by Frank Culp, 15 years old, on the Culp farm, Ashland township, Clarion county.

There is one name on it and it starts as "Emmo," but the letter which follows cannot be made out. The remainder of the inscription reads, died March 17, 1606."

Those who have examined the stone believe the marker was that to mark the grave of an early English or French explorer.

Smithsonian Experts Find Evidence Of Life On Earth For Billion Years

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Concrete evidence of the existence of life on the earth from one to two billion years ago, has been discovered by Smithsonian Institution experts.

These fossil deposits of the earliest known animal life, found in the Cambrian rocks, and consisting mainly of trilobites, were unearthed by Dr. Charles E. Resser and Erwin R. Pohl, paleonthologists in Utah and Montana during the past summer.

The so-called trilobites, a crustacean line which became extinct about the time of the coal measures were deposited, are distantly related to the brine-shrimp, a curious creature abundant in the Great Salt lake and the Dead sea.

"A billion and a half years ago those trilobites were the dominant life in the sea, there being, so far as is known, no land animals in that remote period," Smithsonian announced. "Up to the present time about 2,000 different kinds of them are known from the Cambrian rock alone. Ultimately this number may reach 5,000."

A very few fossils have been found in rocks older than the Cambrian, according to the statement, but in the Cambrian life flowered suddenly into startling abundance.

Fifty years ago geologists believed that the Ordivician, two periods later than the Cambrian rock, contained the oldest life.

Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of Smithsonian Institution, has the distinction of having proved the older view incorrect. When he first advanced the opinion that rocks older than the Ordivician contained fossil evidences of life, he was laughed at by the older geologists.

"About 1830, however, he advanced the first concrete evidence in the support of his opinion," Smithsonian said. "He has since gathered immense quantities of spplementary material from the Cambrian rocks, until he is now the recognized authority on the period."

Dr. Resser is continuing to collect further data. The main purpose of the present field work in Utah and Montana is to establish a section of the middle and lower Cambrian beds as a standard for comparison of similar deposits over the earth.

That is, the statement added, an attempt is being made to work out the relative positions of the strata. Some very fine fossil trilobites were obtained this season from the East Galatin river and from Pole creek at the north end of the Madison range.

The finding of fossils at the former locality was due to a stroke of luck, resulting from recent erosion of a cliff by the temporary stream which revealed the specimens in ground which had already been carefully worked over.

Pohl collected from the Devonian and Lower Carboniferous beds, comparing their faunas with those of New York and Ontario regions in which he has been working recently.

Rob Salesman On Highway Near Greensburg, Pa.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 23. — Fear that negro highwaymen who terrorized the Pittsburgh district for several months have widened their scene of activities to this section was expressed today while police sought three negroes who bound, gagged and robbed William Mairmont, 80, Pittsburgh salesman, and threw him into a ditch by the highway.

According to Fairmont the three men forced his car into the ditch by crowding him off the highway with their car, and then robbed him of $90.

Chicago Examines Wayward Children

By FRED J. WALKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Chicago has inaugurated what promises to be a new era in the treatment of wayward children.

The Institute for Juvenile Research, recently opened, is to examine every boy and girl who passes through the juvenile court for examination with a view to determining whether physical and mental defects may not be responsible for a goodly percentage of child delinquency.

Ailments when found will be treated with a view to returning the children to society in such condition that they will be assets rather than liabilities.

"Scientific study of human behavior," said Dr. Herman Adler, in charge of the institute, "will yield not only new methods for treatment and prevention of crime, but also will produce new knowledge of the human mind—knowledge that will add to the sum total of human happiness.

"From the dawn of civilization mothers have been bewildered by incorrigible characteristics in their children. Science now wants to know the answer to the question, Why is a bad boy?"

Modern science, according to Dr. Adler, will provide the answer, in part at least.

Little Johnnie who has run afoul of the police will be card-indexed. They will seek at the institute to find out, scientifically, why he gets into trouble. They hope to build up in the course of time a mass of facts which may throw new light on the mental reactions of children.

Home-made Remedy Stops Cough Quickly

Finest cough medicine you ever used. Family supply easily made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant—children like it, and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Senior High School News

DRAMATIC DEPARTMENT

Most people have the idea that putting on a play is a lot of fun and that members of the dramatic class tread a path of roses in comparison with those students who take less spectacular subjects.

As a matter of fact, there are no harder working people in school than those same members of the dramatic class, who not only give the scheduled time to their work, but uncomplainingly stay after school, return later for an evening's rehearsal or devote their week-ends to working out the thousand and one details of costume and stage setting so important in a final performance.

Just now the members of the class are trying out for parts in the school play to be given December 8 and 9. Everybody is learning a part, and no one knows who will be the final cast of "The Lucky Break". Sometimes two students trying out for the same part do such excellent work that each one appears in one of the two public performances.

Whatever the final decision, everyone knows that back of the scenes are other faithful workers who have contributed their share to the performance equally with those in the cast.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Salesmanship News:

Someone said: "Variety is the spice of life", and if this is so, members of the Senior High school salesmanship classes should be pretty well spiced. They have gone briefly into the subject of advertising. A good many have entered the window-trimming contest. Some have written advertisements for the goods displayed in the contest.

Almost everyone has had a chance to sell something in class, as well as having the privilege of being on the other side of the fence and acted as the customer to the salesman. Among the long list of articles sold in class are: books, pencils, pens, watches, beads, bracelets, violins, saxaphones, magazines, stocks, toilet goods, hosiery, candy, coal, sweaters, etc. No one has yet tried millinery. This latter probably proves Mr. Miller's statement that the ladies' hatter has the hardest job of all. But who knows, perhaps some brave person will yet surprise us with a display of fancy headgear.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Physics:

Physics is that branch of science which deals mainly with mechanics, light, heat, electricity, sound and motion.

The common scientific magazines usually contain very interesting articles on the subject of physics. The "Radio Mechanics" magazine contains a continued article entitled, "The Physics of Radio". This article leads to very much information on the subject of electricity. It explains fully the flow of electricity, the resistance of wire, the use of condensers, etc.

The "Popular Science" and "Popular Mechanics" contain many articles on the subjects of mechanics. That is, they deal with pumps, guages, heat, light, etc. The articles are numerous and very interesting. There are many other magazines just as good as these.

One extremely great advantage to the use of magazines in this study is that the information obtained from them is up-to-date, and that from the text books we use no up-to-date material is found, although they have stood the test of time. Also, the articles in these magazines are written by men of authority and the write-ups can be taken as the truth as well as what we get from the text book. We get many ideas for experiments of our own design instead of the old and dry ones from the class books.

Building Boom Seen On East Side

Weingartner Asks Council To Open Up Number Of New Streets

DEMAND FOR LOTS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Attorney George T. Weingartner, one of the city's foremost home-builders, indicated to council today that the East Side, especially in the Rose and Clarence avenue districts, will soon experience a big building boom and asked that bids be taken for the grading of Clarence avenue and that a grade be established in Rose avenue, between Stanton avenue and Cascade street.

The realtor told members of council that bids for the grading of Clarence avenue were opened a year ago but they were considered too high and rejected. He asked council to put through the necessary legislation so that the Clarence avenue project can be started next spring.

He also said that a sewer has been laid in the Irish plot of ground in the Rose avenue section and development is desired. He said today that there is a demand that cannot be satisfied under existing conditions and that as soon as a grade is established development can be started.

Plans and specifications for grading Clarence avenue are on file at the city's engineering department. Councilman Genkinger and colleagues, quick to aid in the project of home building, instructed Engineer Miller to prepare plans and specifications for grading Rose avenue between Stanton avenue and Cascade street.

Mr. Weingartner said that the demand for lots in these sections is unusually large and it is probable that the improvements recently started at the National Radiator company is beginning to manifest itself in the district. When the radiator foundry is completed hundreds of additional employes will be added to the company's roster, and this section is within close proximity to the sections desired graded by Mr. Weingartner.

Uncle Sam Tells How To Select And Cook Your Thanksgiving Day Turkey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—When you select a Thanksgiving turkey be sure to ascertain the amount and quality of flesh on the body, especially on the breast, back and hips, Uncle Sam, through the Agriculture Department, advised housewives today.

Examine the bird with its back up, that is the best way to tell how plump it is, the experts said.

Plenty of flesh means plenty of meat for carving and there should be a generous amount of fat to insure a moist, tender turkey.

To tell a turkey's age, feel the end of the breut or keel bone and examine the spurs on its feet, the department advises. While young birds are usually the choice for roasting, almost any bird can be cooked so that it will be tender.

Uncle Sam's method of cooking a turkey is to place it in a covered roaster with a little water in the bottom. A carefully regulated oven will keep it from drying out. The time of cooking varies with the age of the turkey.

The custom of having turkey for Thanksgiving dinner dates back to the early New England settlers, who found turkeys wild and highly recommended by the Indians as a choice food.

Commission Delves Into Freight Rate Case At Capitol

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Pittsburgh district is being deprived of its natural advantages because of lower freight rates on coal moving from West Virginia and other southern cotton fields to the Great Lakes, J. L. Hornburger, vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal company, told the Interstate Commerce commission today. The commission is inquiring into the advisability of revising the present rate structure on coal moving from Pennsylvania, Ohio and southern fields to the Great Lakes.

Hornburger said the tax rate in Pennsylvania was ten times higher than the Kentucky rate and two or three times higher than the rate in West Virginia.

"Over-production in the Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields is one of the curses of the present coal situation," he declared. "On the other hand, the southern fields are fifty years ahead of the times."

Butchers Cannot Slay Young Calves

Davies Will Seek Conviction Of Butchers If They Do, He Says

Butchers who slay calves before they are four weeks old will be lodged in the workhouse—or some other penal institution, providing D. O. Davies, superintendent of the health bureau, city of New Castle, has a good day in court.

He said today that sanitary officers recently condemned meat which came from a young calf.

"There is a fine and prison sentence awaiting the next person we catch", said Davies today.

A Sharon butcher, found guilty of the offense, Davies explained was forced to pay a heavy fine and sentenced to seven months in the workhouse.

Scientist Dies, Ashes Scattered

Noted Scientist Dies; Leaves Request For Ashes To Be Scattered To Winds

MAN CONFESSES BRUTAL MURDER

By PAUL E. BROKAW
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 23.—Over near Crittenden, Ky., near here, the winds sing a requiem mass for Curtis G. Lloyd, scientist, mycologist, and philanthropist.

His last wish was carried out when his ashes were "dissipated without discourse, ceremony, flowers, or funeral of any kind.

And this man, founder of Lloyd's Library and Lloyd's Museum of Mycology here, who died at the age of 76, long ago had erected a monument to himself.

The monument stands on his farm near Crittenden.

An inscription upon it reads:

"Curtis G. Lloyd. Born in 1859. Died 60 or more years later.

The exact number of years, months, and days he lived nobody knows and nobody cares.

This monument erected by himself, for himself, during his own lifetime, to gratify his own vanity. 'What fools ye mortals be'."

Murder will out.

After identifying a body in the county morgue as that of Everett Heath, his brother-in-law, Edward Lovelace worked day and night with detectives in an effort to solve the crime.

Heaths' body had been found in the Ohio river, stabbed, bound with ropes, and weighted with a 30 pound granite block.

Finally detectives became suspicious of Lovelace.

After a brief questioning he confessed that he murdered his relative following an argument on a fishing trip.

Lovelace is now held under a charge of first degree murder.

Mussolini, Italian dictator, walks like Caesar, talks like Caesar, thinks like Caesar, and is a modern 20th century Caesar, in the opinion of Harlan Parker, for four years a member of the U. S. consular service in Italy, and who recently made a trip to that country to study the Italian politician.

"Caesar's consuming passion was the aggrandizement of ancient Rome. Mussolini's is the aggrandizement of modern Italy," declared Parker in an address before the Ohio Classical Conference here.

Summing up the similarity of the two men, Parker asserted:

"Two dictators, two heroes, two leaders, living on the same soil, traversing the same streets, thinking the same thoughts, and speaking almost the same tongue."

"Mr. Jenny has retired."

That is the answer now being given to numerous calls for John H. Jenny, 76, veteran and trusted "messenger boy" who recently rounded his life's business career with a local telegraph company.

"Mr. Jenny's dignity and poise made him an unusual character in the delivery room and throughout the Cincinnati business district.

He was never referred to as "boy", nor was he hailed by his "number," as the majority of the messengers are; it was always "Mr. Jenny."

Jenny boasts membership in several fraternal societies.

Little Miss Rose Marie Roberts, eight months old, claims that she has visited the barber shop more times than any girl her age in the United States.

That is, Rose Marie doesn't loudly assert it herself but her mother, Mrs. Harvey Roberts, local citizen, has so stated. The baby has had her hair bobbed five times to date.

She was named after the well-known musical show, and her parents hope she will become a famous singer.

This "hair bobbing championship" announcement is not an advance publicity stunt, her parents declared.

Powerful Globes As Substitutes For Kleig Lights

(International News Service)

UNIVERSAL CITY, Cal., Nov. 23.—Powerful incandescent electric light globes, burning 10,000 to 30,000 watts, may replace traditional Kleig lights for movie set illumination if experiments now being made here by General Electric Co., engineers are successful.

First tests have been satisfactory, it was learned, and sponsors of the experiment hope that the old type of carbon lighting will be eliminated.

The new lighting system would junk thousands of dollars worth of electrical equipment in the various movie studios, but the saving in time was thought valuable enough to offset this loss. The new lights measure from 12 to 14 inches in diameter and have tungsten filaments in nitrogen gas.

Australia Developing Commercial Airways

(International News Service)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 23.—Developments of commercial airways in Australia are proceeding rapidly.

Within a few months all the capital cities will be connected by air routes. The latest addition to the numerous services is between Brisbane and Sydney, where the distance of 400 miles is covered in five hours.

Official statistics show that over 1,500,000 miles have been flown on regular commercial routes without a single fatality or injury to either staff or passengers. These figures have stimulated public confidence and greatly encouraged development.

Rudner And Mazer Admitted To Bond

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Nov. 23.—After a lengthy argument before Judge Edwin Diehl, the court late Monday admitted to bond Ben Rudner and Louis Mazer, two of the three men indicted on a charge of first degree murder for the killing of Don Mellett, Canton Daily News publisher.

Rudner's bond was set at $100,000 and that of Mazer at $60,000. Pat McDermott is scheduled to go on trial on December 6 in connection with the death of Mellett. McDermott is held as the key man by Detective Ora Slater and Prosecutor C. B. McClintock. He was the last of the trio to be arrested.

Conneaut Lake Cottages Looted

Dozen Summer Cottages On Lake Are Entered By Thieves

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Nov. 23.—State and county authorities collaborated with insurance officials today in checking up the loot stolen from a dozen summer cottages on the east side of Conneaut Lake, near here, presumably late last Saturday night.

After cursory examination the insurance company representatives estimated the value of the loot at $10,000. The thieves also damaged many of the cottages, smashing the doors with axes.

The plunder consisted of silverware, dishes, carpets and other articles left in the cottages when they were closed for the season.

Among those who suffered losses at the hands of thieves who broke into the cottages were Frank Mellon of Pittsburgh, R. B. Packard of Greenville, E. J. McArthur of Meadville and others.

Santa Making Ready To Start Trip To New Castle

Santa Visits Doll House And Gets Many Surprises

His Shops At The Top Of The World Are Working Day And Night Turning Out Myriads Of Toys And Presents For Boys And Girls

The Garden of Happiness,
Top of the World,
North Pole.

My Dear Friends:—

Every day now brings me just so much nearer to the time when I have planned to be in New Castle with Mrs. Santa Claus, the six reindeer and the Tautuk family. My, but won't we have great times together, and won't you be kept busy seeing all the things that will be shown when behind my Christmas sleight, hitched to the six reindeer, will come a whole parade of Brownies, fairies, Mother Goose, Little Jack Horner, Simple Simon and Jack and Jill.

My shops here at the Top of the World are working night and day to finish all the baseballs, cameras, bicycles, pen-knives, bobsleds, books, building blocks, dolls, doll cradles, felt slippers, Teddy bears, pencil boxes, sweaters and colored crayons that must be ready to deliver to the thousands of good little boys and girls in the world on Christmas Eve.

I just now came in from a visit to the doll house in the Garden of Happiness, and there I saw the best selection of dolls the Santa shops have ever made. There were big dolls with flaxen hair, pink-cheeked dolls with curly auburn hair, china dolls, French dolls, rag dolls stuffed with sawdust; Mama dolls that talk to you, Papa dolls in sailor suits, white rabbits with pink eyes, Felix cats, Rover dogs, woolly bears and all kinds of playthings.

Stores Here Show Santa's Toys

You know I always send samples of everything we make in the Garden of Happiness to the toy departments in the big stores in New Castle. This makes it a lot easier for you to decide what you want, for you can get your mother or father to take you through the stores and pick out the things you would like to have me bring you on Christmas Eve.

Of course, you must understand that boys and girls cannot always have all the toys and nice things they ask their fathers and mothers to have Santa bring them. We are so extremely busy in the Garden of Happiness at the Top of the World, and have so many things to do, that sometimes we cannot make all the things the boys and girls want. I remember one year when nearly all the girls in the world wanted dolls and we could not make enough to go 'round; and once when ice skating was good nearly all the boys wanted skates. We had a hard time that Christmas and some children had to wait an entire year for dolls and skates.

Santa Builds New Toy Shops

This year, though, everything is going along fine. Last July I built two new toy shops and had Tautuk drive over to Never-Never Land with the reindeer and bring back two hundred Brownies. My, how they have been working with their Brownie saws, their Brownie hammers, their tiny paint brushes and buckets! Wheels have been whirring, belts and pulleys, stamps and motors, spokes and sprockets run day and night; circle saws cut out wooden soldiers and there are red, blue, yellow and all colors in paints to be mixed; and cloth and tinsel, gold leaf and bronze to be brought out of the storehouses and made up into toys.

Since writing you my first letter many boys and girls have mailed me letters asking where the Garden of Happiness is, and although it would be impossible for any of you to visit me ,I shall tell you. The Garden of Happiness is at the Top of the World in the land of everlasting snow and ice.

The Garden itself is under Ginger-bread mountain, which is seven miles high and covered at the top with marshmallow-cream icing. Deep in the center of this mountain you will find the Garden. Entrance to the Garden is through a cave. The entire cavern is made light with fireflies and glow-worms. All outside the Garden is cold and black night with only a pale moon and far-away stars to light the way; all within is bright and warm and cheery. Everyone works and it certainly is the cheeriest place in the world.

And now, dear boys and girls, I must go and see if Mrs. Santa Claus has put the Brownies to bed and tucked the fairies in for their slumbers and if Tautuk has fed the reindeer with moss and locked them in secure from prowling polar bear and wolves.

I will write you another letter tomorrow and tell you about our preparations for the trip to New Castle.

Your loving
SANTA CLAUS.

PRIVATE IZZY MURPHY PROVES BEST OF MANY WAR PICTURES

When Anne Nichols wrote "Abie's Irish Rose" she may not have thought she was starting a vogue in things theatrical, but since her world's record run started, there have been many plays with the same motif.

The latest one for New Castle is "Private Izzy Murphy", playing the Capitol Theatre, but the producers have gone a step further than Miss Nichols, they have made the lead in the pictures, George Jessel, a hero in the Fighting 69th, New York's famous regiment. As Isidore Goldberg, he was a prosperous young Jew, conducting a delicatessen store. As Isidore Patrick Murphy he was a fighting son-of-a-gun.

Of course there's a love theme running through it. Pretty Patsy Ruth Miller takes the part of Eileen Cohannigan who falls in love with her "Pat" only to find that he is not that kind of a Pat. But it makes no difference to Eileen.

"Private Izzy Murphy" is a wonderful picture, one that has pathos, drama, and comedy blended in nicely balanced parts. Nat Carr is in it which means genuine comedy, Vera Gordon is in it, which means real pathos, and George Jessel and Patsy Ruth Miller guarantee plenty of romance.

Three vaudeville acts complete the bill.

BOY IS HURT; HIT BY AUTO

Lad Has Both Legs Broken When Struck By Auto On Long Avenue

Herman Nichols, aged five, of 1305 Scioto street, is in the New Castle hospital, both legs fractured and suffering considerably from the resulting shocks, as a result of an accident on Long avenue, which occurred shortly before seven o'clock last night, when he was struck by the automobile of C. M. Thompson of 921 Marshall avenue.

According to the report made to the police by Mr. Thompson, he was driving west on Long avenue, near Fisher's store, when his machine struck the little boy, who came out on the street in front of his machine suddenly and unexpectedly.

Mr. Thompson was accompanied by his son, Dallas, and they were of the opinion that the machine was not going over from 10 to 12 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

The little fellow was knocked down to the street pavement. Mr. Thompson stopped his car instantly and getting out, picked up the little victim of the accident, who was lying in the rear of the machine as it came to a stop.

He rushed the little boy to the hospital in his car, where it was at first feared that he might have sustained serious injuries of the head as well as the legs. On thorough examination it was determined that the principal injuries of the lad were the broken legs.

At the hospital today it was stated that the boy was doing as well as could be expected, and while he was suffering greatly from the shock, that the indications were that he would recover from his injuries.

Tobacco Industry In Pennsylvania Makes Big Stride

By G. ROSS DOWNING,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—Figues on file in the state department of agriculture today show that the tobacco industry has experienced more change than any other Pennsylvania farm enterprise in the last half century. Acreage of the crop has been increased five times and the yield per acre has doubled due to improved methods of growing and fertilization.

Figures show that the state this year produced 45,302,000 pounds of tobacco on 33,000 acres.

In 1866, the earliest date for which figures are available, the state produced 4,900,000 pounds of tobacco on 6,200 acres.

While tobacco was grown in 12 countries of the state this year, more than 91 per cent of the total crop was produced in Lancaster county.

COULD NOT PUT ON HER SHOES

Mrs. Daugherty Was so Weak

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—MRS. ED. DAUGHERTY, 1308 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

Denies Reports Of Annulment Of Her Marriage

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 23.—"Whoever is spreading the reports of the annulment of my marriage must know more about my personal affairs than I do."

This was the only comment Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt II made today on the reports that the Rota tribunal in Rome had granted her an annulment of her marriage on grounds of coercion.

"The report that my marriage has been annulled in Rome is perfectly absurd and I absolutely deny it," continued Mrs. Vanderbilt, the former Virginia Fair.

Asked to comment upon another report that she is seeking a divorce in Paris, Mrs. Vanderbilt said "I cannot help what people are saying."

Mrs. Vanderbilt announced that she has decided to sail for the United States on Saturday due to the death of her sister, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs in Newport.

Great Lakes Had Big Shipping Year

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 23.—With the close of the shipping season on the Great Lakes near and the government preparing to close down its lighthouses, the lake shippers are declaring that the 1926 season was the most successful since the 1923 boom.

Coal and iron, the two chief commodities hit the peak in both American and Canadian fleets. All of the 500 lake boats, employing 20,000 men operated the entire season.

Wheat was the only commodity to suffer. Heavy fall rains and lack of buyers cut tonnage totals more than 30 per cent from 1925.

Experts have figured that the lake steamers will have moved 28,535,000 tons of coal from Lake Erie ports to the head of the lakes by December 1. But 27,000,000 tons were moved last year.

If the British coal strike had not interfered the 1925 record of more than 29,000,000 tons would have been passed.

Two hitherto unimportant cargoes, stone and sand, bid for the listing of chief commodities in 1927. Approximately 500,000 tons of limestone will have been transferred from Lake Erie islands to blast furnaces by the season's close. Sand is expected to set a record of 15,000,000 tons.

Of the 500 vessels registered in the Great Lakes trade, 137 are entered from the Dominion of Canada and the remainder from the United States.

CONQUER CONSTIPATION EASILY

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves constipation because it is 100% BRAN

Mr. McEnery tried part-bran substitutes — but only ALL-BRAN brought complete relief. Here's what he says:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. . . . About two years ago I tried out mixed bran and corn flakes but did not get much relief. Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day, I have never had to take a dose of any laxative medicine of any description."

JAMES D. McENERY,
R. F. D. No. 4, Alto, Texas.

Constipation is the enemy of health. The cause of more than forty diseases. Don't let this insidious trouble send its poisons through your body. Pimples, spots before the eyes, indigestion and headaches—are warning signs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation or your money is refunded. Delicious with milk, fruit or with other cereals. Fine in cooking.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere.

Foot Doctors Startle College Beaux By Saying Most Girls Are Cripples

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—College coeds who trip so lightly over campus ground or display their aesthetic charms at fraternity balls are to the amazing extent of 80 per cent foot defectives. They will not believe it, nor will the ardent swains of men's colleges who have much admiration for the feminine students.

But believe it or not, the National Association of Chiropodists say it is so and are about to prove it by making a survey of the feet of the co-eds in the schools and colleges of the United States.

Faulty and ill-fitting shoes are the cause of this startling disclosure of feminine defectiveness. To the Prince Charming who judges his choice by the daintiness of her feet, it is with surprise that he becomes aware that a night of dancing in the cute little slippers is followed by hours of agonizing aches for his partner in the terpsichorean art.

Chiropodists say they can authentically state that several thousand people are killed each year from wearing high heeled shoes because of heels catching on stairs. In addition countless numbers are also injured in a like manner.

Large Supply Of Christmas Trees Coming This Year

About 9,000 Trees To Arrive In New Castle Early In December, It Is Stated

Along with the coming of the holidays and visions of the appearance of Santa Claus, there is one other feature that is carried along in most children's minds—the Christmas tree.

Each year as the holiday season rolls around there is the discussion about conservation of Christmas trees in the forests, and the various other arguments for and against the use of trees.

This coming holiday season is to be just like those preceding, however as one of the leading firms in the city importing Christmas trees says that already some five carloads have been ordered for New Castle, which means that 9,000 trees will be on the market here, enough to insure a tree in almost every home in the city.

The trees are coming from Vermont, and will arrive about the middle of December.

The British museum library contains about 4,000 different editions of the Bible.

NEW TARIFF RATE ON STONE IS REQUIRED

B. R. And P. Railroad Is Ordered To Submit New Rate Here

(From News Bureau, State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—The Pittsburgh & Shawmut Railroad company and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway company must file a new tariff of rates on stone, crushed or broken, in carload lots from Kittanning to points on the B. R. & P. The companies have until early in December in which to place on file with the commission the new tariff and the rates will become effective within one day's notice. The new rate as allowed by the commission from Kittanning to New Castle is not to exceed $1.30 a ton.

The change in intra-state rates resulted from a complaint of the Kittanning Limestone company. This company alleged unjust and discriminatory preferential rates to other producing points on the B. R. & P., including New Castle.

The complainant in shipping crushed stone is in competition with slag, gravel and crushed stone from the Pittsburgh district and with crushed stone from the New Castle district, pricipally the quarries at Ellwood City and Rock Point. The rates which were attacked did not contain rates from Kittanning to points on the New Castle branch.

In the proceedings before the commission the complainants introduced evidence which shows that the rates from the New Castle district are on a lower level than the rates from its plant. It was also shown that the rates between points on respondent's lines in New York state are on a lower level. Likewise, joint rates from the New Castle district to Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad points and to Pittsburgh & Shawmut points were on a lower basis than corresponding rates from complainant's plant.

The complainant company attempted to show that the transportation service from the New Castle district involved a two-line haul, the purpose was to place it in the same class as the two-line service from its Kittanning plant. The respondent proved that the line west of Butler Junction to New Castle and south of Ribold Junction to Pittsburgh are owned by the Baltimore & Ohio and that the respondent by virtue of trackage agreements operates over these lines as it does over its own lines.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

"'AI-FEEEE' screamed the Coal Black Beauty in dismay. 'A weight upon my back! A tug at my mane! Alas that which has happened to other of my brothers has now befallen me. Brothers, a monster is astride me. What shall I do?'

"A-ieeeee! Throw him! Bite him! Kick him!' came the shrill reply. 'Look brother, 'tis like this it should be done!' And from a safe distance the Wild Horse bucked and kicked and whirled and neighed advice to the one who was in trouble.

"And acushlas the troubled one tried his best to follow it.

"'Neigh and you shall not ride me, Two Legs, that I swear!' screamed he. 'Like a thief in the night you stole upon me but on my back you are at my mercy and I shall have none of you. Look well upon those sharp rocks yonder for it is upon them that I shall dash you!'

"But the worst threats of man and beast oft come to naught. In a fury such as he had never been in before Coal Black Beauty tried his level best to keep his word but he couldn't. He stood on his hind legs and pawed the air with his forelegs. He reared on his forelegs and attempted to toss the Two-Legs over his head. The man hung onto his mane. He humped up in the middle and jumped—now straight ahead, now to the right, to the left. The man stuck like a burr to his back. He kicked and he whirled and he jerked and he ran but all to no purpose; he just could not rid himself of his unwelcome burden. Finally his fury began to turn to fright.

"'Help brothers!' whined he. 'To my rescue or I am lost!'

"WOOF! TURN BACK IF YOU WOULD SAVE YOUR OWN NECKS, BARKED WANDER.

"The Wild Horses had been waiting the word. Down the Valley they charged, screaming and snorting their eyes darting fire, their mouths flecked with the foam of rage. And who knows, acushlas it might have fared ill with the man on the back of the Coal Black Beauty if it had not been for Wander.

"'Woof! Turn back! barked he at the uncaptured Wild Horses. If you would save your liberty, right about face and then follow your nose. Your brother belongs to my Master!'"

NEW CASTLE HIGH WILL LOSE 12 FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Graduation To Deplete Ranks

Coach Bridenbaugh Drives Team Through Stiff Scrimage Session Monday

TWELVE TO PLAY FINAL GAME

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Twelve members of the 1926 New Castle high football team will play their final scholastic game Thanksgiving day. Graduation at the half semester and next June will deplete the rank and file of the Red and Black grid eleven. Announcement to this effect was made today by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner.

New Castle high will keenly feel the passing of 12 of the boys who have made grid history at the local institution. Six of the 12 men who will be lost to the team for next year are regulars this season and the remainder are substitutes. It is a well known fact that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link and the team will miss the scrubs as they are commonly called.

The following men will end their high school careers on Thanksgiving day against Erie Academy high: Captain Harry Robinson, Robert Millison, George "Peg" Thomas, Walter "Baldy" McGrath, William Kirk, Clarence Klaber, DiThomas, Wallace Mott, Jones, Dickson, T. Farrow and Sandifer. It is likely that others will also graduate next June, but this list was the only one available at this time.

Will be Missed.

The passing of Harry Robinson takes from the New Castle High team one of the best centers that the institution has ever known. Robinson has been a member of the team for the past three years, breaking into the game in 1923 as a member of the team that defeated Harrisburg Tech at Harrisburg. Robinson was first used at an end berth with Hanlon at center, but when Hanlon departed Coach Bridenbaugh needed a man of the type of this year's captain to fill the gaping hole in the middle of the line and Robinson was given the post. To say that "Robby" has made good would be putting it in mild terms. The New Castle center for the past two years has held the edge over all other centers in the W. P. I. A. L. and last year was given an all-scholastic rating.

On the offense or defense Robinson has proven himself a "bear-cat." Many of the centers who have opposed Robinson claim the youngster to be the best they have ever seen. Robinson is always in the thick of the fray and while the play of the linemen does not stand out quite as prominently as the backfield to the average fan, yet the linemen are in the game and were it not for them the game would be rather uninteresting.

Robinson will be missed and the fact is just as evident as five fingers on one hand. In addition to playing center the "Titian" haired youth has proven himself a great leader and one that the team could look up to. Robinson is a great favorite, not alone with the fans but also with his teammates.

George "Peg" Thomas, veteran fullback and this year converted into a lineman is another chap whose passing will take strength from the New Castle team. Thomas as a fullback in 1925 was one of the mainstays of the team. It was the work of this powerful built youngster that saved many games for the Red and Black. As a line plunger Thomas has few equals in High school circles. When called upon for a short gain the youth was always ready. An infected leg suffered the early part of this year laid him on the sheif for a time being and for awhile it was feared that he would be lost to the team

Election Row To Be Aired By Guffey In Washington, D. C.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23—Charges of political corruption through the use of "zero" wards and alphabetical voting in Pittsburgh were to be aired in Washington today as Joseph F. Guffey, Democratic national committeeman, was enroute to the national capitol.

Guffey, together with other Democratic politicians here, alleged that entire wards here failed to register a single Democratic ballot, while some wards showed evidence that voters had cast ballots in alphabetical order in the recent senatorial elections.

THE SCHALK LINE

It's a Steady Flow of Talk When White Sox Pilot Catches

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Ray Schalk, new pilot of the Chicago White Sox, takes up the burden laid down by five other managers in his time. But apparently the experience of seeing five of them, good men and true, give up the ghost—or be wished out—brings no forebodings of ill to Ray's mind.

Ray never was given to mourning. His pep and fire, from behind the plate, through a span of 1,600 games, helped hold the velocipede together many a time when it was about to fall apart, due to wobbly pitching or worse fielding. His constant line of chatter through his steel framed mask has helped pitchers by the score keep their feet when the going became rough.

Came Clean Through Scandal

He was one of the few men to keep their heads up and their honor unstained in that tragic affair of 1919 when the gamblers almost put an end to organized baseball as a popular sport.

Now, as manager, he'll need to inject that same spirit of hope and heads-up baseball into his team. He'll be able to do it from behind the plate for a year or two. He still has his batting eye and most of his speed. He should break into half the games at least next season. Just how successful he'll be when out of the game remains to be seen. The fact that Comiskey canned the great old Eddie Collins the minute his second base legs went back on him bodes ill for Ray. But he probably isn't worrying about that.

From Rookie to Pilot

Schalk becomes manager in the big show just 14 years after entering it as a player. And he takes charge of the team that gave him his first chance as a rookie and with which he has spent his entire baseball life.

Big Ed Walsh was in his prime as a spitball hurler when Schalk joined the Chicago club from the Milwaukee A. A. team. It is told of Schalk that he went behind the plate to catch Walsh shortly after joining the club and performed the unusual catching feat of working the entire game without flashing a signal to Walsh that he (Schalk) might know what to expect. Considering the fact that Walsh's spitball was one of the most deceptive and hardest balls to catch this was a remarkable bit of receiving for one who had never worked with Big Ed before—had not even seen him pitch.

Schalk saw service under Jimmy Callahan, "Pants" Rowland, Kid Gleason and Johnny Evers before Collins was named pilot two years ago. The little catcher started his baseball career with the Taylorville, Ill., club and moved from that city to Milwaukee.

Ray broke into the big show a year ahead of Steve O'Neill, former Cleveland catcher, and through a decade these two ran a merry race for catching honors. Schalk's speed on the paths alone gave him an edge, in my opinion.

FORWARD PASSES BRING TRIUMPHS TO BROWN TEAM

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Brown has forward passed its way to football fame this season in a campaign which has seen most of the aerial attacks repulsed and the field goal called upon to decide an increasing number of college gridiron conflicts.

The Brown passing combination of Mishel to Randall has stood out as the main offensive weapon of the Bruins, playing as conspicuous a part in their triumphs over Dartmouth, Yale and Harvard as have the "Ironman" qualities of the 11 regulars.

Colgate is Obstacle.

Colgate alone stands in the way of an unbeaten season for Brown and a claim to eastern as well as national championship honors. If the New York state eleven can stop the Mishel-Randall combination in the Thanksgiving day game at Providence, it may break up Brown's victorious march. If, on the other hand the aerial antics of the Bears are successful, "Mishel to Randall" will deserve a place in football annals along with such other famous passing pairs as Wyman-Baston of Minnesota, Prichard-Merrilat of West Point, Oberlander-Tully of Dartmouth and Friendman-Oosterbaan of Michigan.

Brown's brilliant use of the pass this year under the coaching of D. O. McLaughry, aided by Ed McMillan, Princeton's all-American center of 1925, has been all the more noteworthy because of the somewhat widespread collapse of the aerial game, as exhibited by other major teams.

Type of Play Changes.

Last season, the pass was a decisive weapon in lifting Dartmouth to eastern honors, but the Green's aerial efforts this year, lacking receivers such as Tully and Sage, have been broken up. Michigan, Alabama, Washington and Princeton also owed much of their 1925 success to the pass but the old fashioned running game and the field goal have dominated the play in most of this season's big games.

Brown is only one of several major teams whose title hopes are at stake in concluding games this week. On Saturday, the Navy stakes its hopes of an eastern championship as well as service honors in the battle with the Army at Chicago, while Noire Dame faces an unexpectedly tough assignment against Carnegie at Pittsburgh. Boston college, its slate marred only by a tie, comes to grips at the same time with its old rival, Holy Cross, at Boston.

The Thanksgiving day spotlight, in addition to to the Brown-Colgate fray, is directed at games of such traditional interest as Cornell-Pennsylvania, Syracuse-Columbia, Penn State-Pittsburgh and West Virginia-Washington & Jefferson.

Americanism. One man making a thing; seven men waiting to get a profit by selling it.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

This is a year of good ends but "Chuck" Kassel, wingman with the University of Illinois, need not take a rear seat for any of them, in my opinion.

Illinois' defensive play, which enabled that eleven to hold Pennsylvania and Chicago scoreless and Iowa to a single touchdown, has been featured all season by Kassel's work. He is a big fellow but fleet-footed, a clever man at opening up opponents' plays, and at turning in a play for the rest of his line to handle.

As a running mate to Lane, Captain Bob McPhail of Dartmouth has performed brilliantly in every department of the game.

That he is a versatile back is attested by the fact that he draws All-American consideration in his junior year as a halfback after having played quarter in his sophomore year and fullback in his freshman year on a team that was undefeated all season.

That he is a heady player is indicated by the fact that he was named acting captain this year when Horton was injured and recently was elected captain for next year—his last with the big Green team.

Football Fans: Get Ready To Pick Real All-American

By ED. FRITZ

Norman E. Brown, sporting editor, Central Press Association, whose topics appear daily in The New Castle News, hopes to uncover a real All-American team; one that is selected by football fans throughout the United States.

On November 29, through 500 newsypapers, one of them being The New Castle News, a poll will be taken. Fans will cast their choice for first and second teams. They will name the players and the college teams on which they have played this season.

The News wants the football fans of New Castle and Lawrence county to get their selections in as soon as possible.

A blank form will be printed in The News which fans should fill out completely, then mail to Ed. Fritz of the sports department.

Here's Brown's System

Here's the way Brown will pick the "real" All-American first team:

Each player will be given a credit of two points for each time his name appears as a first team selection.

He will receive one point each time he is mentioned as a second string selection.

The points credited to each player mentioned will be totaled at the close of the polls, Saturday, Dec. 4.

The writer will use this consensus of opinion in making out The News All-American eleven.

This will be representative of the sentiment in this vicinity and will be printed in The News.

The representative eleven (or first and second teams) will then be forwarded to Norman E. Brown.

Will Compile Points

Using each one of these sectional choices as an individual ballot, Brown will compile the points scored by each man on the same basis—(two points for each time named on the first team and one for each time mentioned as second team choice).

The men receiving the greatest number of points in this final tabulation will then be placed on the real All-American eleven and the second team opposite it.

Be sure to study your choice's record; be sure to vote and get ready to mail 'em to Ed. Fritz, News sports department.

Remember, the polls will be open November 29-December 4, inclusive.

Italian Bulldogs Tie With Croton In Fast Contest

Independent Teams Battle 0-0 On Scotland Lane Grounds

The Croton A. C. gridders hindered the Italian Bulldogs from gaining any ground in the race for the independent championship of the city by holding the strong South Side team to a 0-0 deadlock in a game played Monday night on the Scotland Lane grounds.

The game was one of the hardest fought of the season on the independent circuit, with both teams putting up a fine brand of football. Coach Colaluca's proteges were outweighed by Coach Marino's team, but the Croton boys made up in a fighting spirit what they lacked in weight.

The Bulldogs had a hard time in stopping the spectacular line plunging of Paul Benninghoff and Campbell Ross. For the Bulldogs Benny Marino, Billy Augostine and "Dutch" Ross were the best ground gainers.

Fred Steward, the stellar Croton halfback, saved the game for Croton in the final two minutes of play by tackling Frankie Ross, who had blocked a kick by Yargo and had raced 40 yards unmolested for the goal line, but Steward nailed him before he could reach the coveted line, and Croton held the Bulldogs until the whistle blew.

Fred Marcella, the Bulldog star center, intercepted a forward pass and ran 20 yards, but tripped and fell and Leonelli, the Croton guard, stopped him from further advancing. Marino skirted 60 yards after receiving a punt, but was stopped before he could cross the line. The stars of the battle were: Cavellier, Steward, for Croton, and Fernati, Ross and Marino for the Bulldogs.

The Croton team won the independent championship in 1924 and the Italian Bulldogs were the champions in 1925.

The line-up:

Bulldogs—0		Croton—0
Fernati	L. E.	Bamabi
Rowe	L. T.	R. Colaluca
S. Campoli	L. G.	Guines
F. Marcella (c)	C.	Cavellier
R. Campoli	R. G.	Leonelli
Young	R. T.	Seward
Pascarella	R. E.	Yargo
Marino	Q. B.	P. Colaluca
Micco	L. H.	F. Steward
B. Augostine	R. H.	C. Ross
D. Ross	F. B.	Benninghoff

Subs.: F. Ross for S. Campoli, Scaglione for Micco, Micco for Scaglione.

Referee: D. Costella, Croton.

Umpire: Ostrosky, New Castle High.

Head linesman: John Ross, Italian Bulldogs.

Time of quarters: 10 minutes.

Timekeepers: Sebastian Isabella and Dan Ross.

GIRL SCOUTS

The weekly meeting of the Keystone troop No. 1 was held at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday evening. Plans were made at this meeting for each patrol to prepare a basket of food for Thanksgiving to be taken to the Rescue Mission which will distribute it to families who are in need.

New patrol leaders were elected during the evening. Next week an initiation will be held for all members not yet initiated. Each patrol leader is to prepare some stunts.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

RACING over a six-mile course in record-breaking time., William J. Cox, Rochester, led Penn State harriers to their first varsity intercollegiate cross-country championship at New York. Cox paced a pack of 104 runners from start to finish and broke the tape in .30:04, 30 seconds better than the mark set a year ago by Willard Tibbetts of Harvard.

PHIL Goldstein, called the dancing featherweight, last night won from Tim Drexler in eight rounds at Pittsburgh. Drexler showed the effects of his long layoff and he will need more bouts to travel with Goldstein and his like. Rudy Cedar beat Mickey Fedor and Jack Rinko took a dive to Rags Madera, former college heavyweight.

THE Harvard Lampoon, largely responsible for the break between Harvard and Princeton, has come forth with an apology to Princeton and states that in the future it will confine itself to "wiser and funnier jests". It will henceforth say nothing in an amusing a manner as possible. Committees are working hard to heal the breach between the two institutions.

THE American Davis Cup committee has voted to readmit Germany to the International Lawn Tennis Federation and Davis competition next year. The vote followed receipt of a copy of Germany's application. Copies of the application were sent to all members. A two-thirds vote is necessary to establish Germany again in Davis Cup play.

PRICEMAN, improving sharply, won the feature, a mile and a sixteenth, at Bowie yesterday, drawing a purse of $1,500. Grenier was second, All Gone third and War Man fourth. The race is liable to draw questioning from the stewards, as Arbitration, which won easily from All Gone and War Man recently, couldn't raise a gallop with Church up.

TOOTS Mondt, Colorado cowboy wrestled Wayne Munn, Nebraska, at New York last night, and Munn lost in a single fall in 27 minutes and 57 seconds. Mondt used a wrist and arm lock to bring Munn down to the broad of his back. With snow on the ground and many big auditoriums ready for cash customers, the old game of wrestling will get a big play in Gotham.

Lawther Starts Work On Team

Westminster Coach Must Develop New Team For Coming Season

FEW VETERANS FOR COLLEGE FIVE IN '27

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 23—A basket ball for every player on the squad. That is the dictum of Coach John Lawther of the Westminster college team.

In an endeavor to develop a team from green material and in an effort to get players accustomed to handling a ball, Coach Lawther has requested Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald to provide enough basketballs so that each member of the squad can have one for himself. While Lawther does not claim that this, in itself, will make a championship team he is firm in the belief that it will go a long way toward developing greater efficiency in passing and handling the ball.

With only four letter men back from last year, Logan, McQuiston, Kelly and Coles, Coach Lawther is confronted with the task of moulding an aggregation worthy of meeting such teams as Geneva, Duquesne, Allegheny and Waynesburg. Kruse, Pahle and Captain-elect McMeekin, three leter men of last year, failed to return to college this fall, while Hetra was lost by graduation. Freshmen aspirants for varsity berths, while coming with fine high school records, are as yet unknown quantities.

Among the first year men who will undoubtedly break into games are Connors, Lewis, Crowell, Brown, R. Thomas, Stewart, Wright and Hostettler. Members of last year's squad who are again seeking places are W. Lewis, Phillips, Ayres and Gamble.

From this array Coach Lawther will have to develop a quintet for the first game with Adrian college on the home court, January 4. Thanksgiving vacation will start Wednesday afternoon and continue until next Monday. This means floor drills will be suspended for a few days. With the return of the squad Coach Lawther will make his first cuts.

Berenger Refuses To Return To U. S. As Ambassador

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Senator Berenger has declined to return to Washington as ambassador from France, it was learned today.

The cabinet met today and approved the re-appointment of Senator Berenger, but he declined the post.

It is understood here that the failure of the French government to seek a speedy ratification of the Berenger-Mellon tentative debt settlement, is responsible for the refusal of Senator Berenger to return to Washington.

Senator Berenger in a letter to Foreign Minister Briand refusing to continue as ambassador to the United States said:

"My chief mission to Washington was to regulate the debt question. Since the accord I negotiated, in complete agreement with the government, has not been ratified I feel it my duty to ask you to consider my diplomatic mission ended."

School Kiddies To See Motor Movie

Motor Club Also Extends Invitation To Civic Clubs Of The City

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 23.—"The school children will be glad to see your pictures", were the words of Prof. Smith, superintendent of schools, yesterday when Frederic M. Smith, manager of the Ellwood City Motor Club, invited the school children of Ellwood City.

Through the courtesy of Sol Silverman and Manager Frishkorn of the Liberty theater, the amusement house is being donated to the club for the presentation of the scenic pictures. The management will also present two reels of the latest comedy for amusement.

The Motor Club has also extended an invitation to the civic clubs of the city, Rotary, Kiwanis and and Quota. An invitation has been extended to Secretary Robert Forbes and the members of the Shelby Social Club and Tube Mill employes.

The pictures were presented several weeks ago in New Castle schools and received quite an ovation. The trip through scenic Pennsylvania of two girls in a motor car carries the onlooker over the famous Lincoln Highway, which crosses the famed for scenic value Allegheny mountains. This highway was the main route during the recent war for truck travel, and the department of highways in 1916-1917-1918 kept this important travel route free from snow, and thousands of government trucks traveled east and west over the old trail of the state.

The road of the type of construction on the highway system of 1920-1926 is shown in far off points, in the Black Forest of Potter county, the lakes of the eastern part of the state; the farms of Lancaster and Reading, the rolling country along the Lakes to Sea, and the virgin timber near Clarion, in the Cooks Forest tract. All are reached in the Motor Club travels by movies.

Other commuters without chains were trusting to fate to deliver them intact in New Castle or vice-versa.

Eli Falconie Marries Lena Cassalandra

Sumptious Ceremony Marks Union Of Local Man And New Castle Girl

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 23.—St. Vitus church of New Castle, beautifully decorated with banks of palms and chrysanthemums, was the scene of a beautifully appointed wedding Monday morning at nine o'clock, when Miss Lena Cassalandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassalandra of New Castle, was married to Eli Falconie of Ellwood City, son of Mrs. Catherine Falconie of Lawrence avenue.

The wedding procession presented an exquisite picture with the bride attired in a gown of silver metallic cloth. She carried a bouquet formed of roses and valley lilies, with silver streamers. Her veil was of tulle with coronet of silver lace and a corresponding note carried out in the court train. Miss Carmel Cassalandra, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a charming ensemble of gold metallic cloth. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses. Samuel Tiberio of Youngstown, a cousin of the groom, was best man. Little Michael Cassella was ring-bearer and Rita Cicilia made a dainty picture as flower girl. The six attendants were attired in pastel chiffon gowns, wearing black picture hats and carrying arm bouquets of chrysanthemums. The bride was given away by her father, John Casalandrao.

Following the ceremony a dinner and reception was tendered the bridal party, after which the couple left for an extended trip to Cleveland and points east, being at home to their friends in Youngstown after the first of the month.

Interesting Exhibit At Central School

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 23—In room number eleven of the Central High school there is an exhibit of rare old antiques donated for the time being by pupils of the school.

An ancient stone, used for grinding corn, rubs elbows as it were, with a bible which was published in 1854 and yellowed with age; a framed Masonic certificate from Dublin, Ireland which was awarded in the fifth century and the property of relatives of Miss Leone Stewart of Kopple; a copy of the Pittsburgh Daily morning Post published in 1842; a page from the County Gazette, published at Kingston, Ulster County, Virginia in 1800, with George Washington's death notice printed in it; an old wall spinning wheel, a poke bonnet which dates back to 1829 are only a few of the wealth of interesting objects on display for a limited time in the school. Almost every one of the articles could be sold to museums for high sums of money.

Room Four Has Fine Program On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 23—Professor Earl Davis of the Central High school gave to the News a sample program of the Home room programs which are given in each room of the high school at least once a month. These programs are given to aid the students in public speaking, quick thinking, composition, etc. The program carried out in Room No. four Monday morning was as follows:

Devotions, Arthur Hoenstine; Song by assemblage, "Speed Our Republic"; "The Origin of Thanks" by Jean Davis; Declamation, Miss Irma Irwin; Two numbers by a quartette composed of the Misses K. Dunbar, Leah Mahaffy, Wilma Clyde and Irene White; Story of Thanks, Miss Jean Helling: Declamation, Arthur Keller; Current Events, Gustav Shuller; Extemporaneous speech and review of the Beaver Falls game by Martin Segedi, Critic Eva Periello; closing with a song by students.

Arthur Mains To Speak At Rally

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 23—An interesting program has been planned for Wednesday afternoon in connection with the Pep Rally which will be conducted in the high school.

The cheering section will be led by ChauncyFusco; Arthur Mains will deliver a short talk on "Handicaps of the Team"; "Echos from the Juniors" by Mureal Bourne and closing with a strong talk by Capt. James MacMurdo entitled "Shall We Win"?

These Pep Rallies which have been an institution with our local high school for some time have a large part in the next day's game. They raise the spirits of the fans, which in turn communicates this invincible atmosphere to the players and in many cases forces them to win the game.

The team is practicing steadily for the game on Thursday with Monaca, which promises to be a pretty evenly-matched contest.

CHURCH COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT

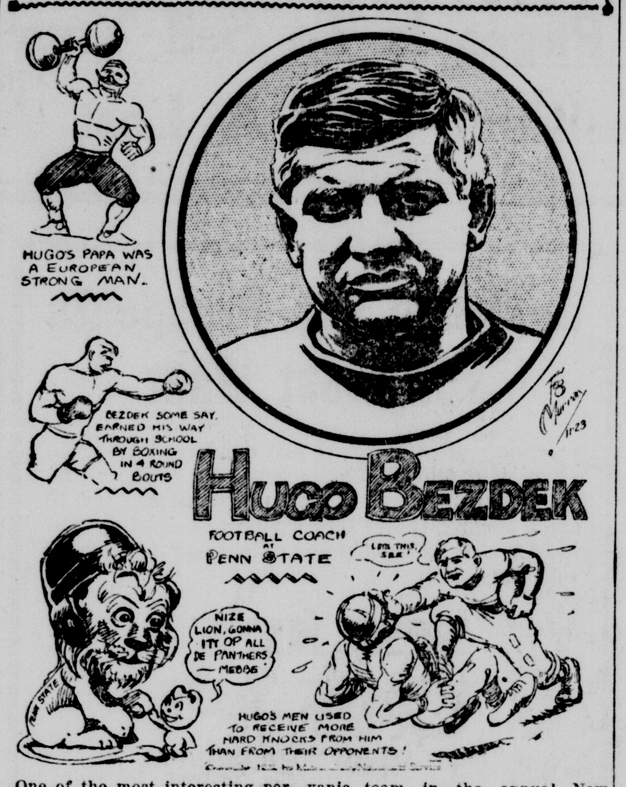
A Colorful Coach — By Feg Murray



One of the most interesting personalities among all the football coaches is Hugo Bezdek, whose Nittany Lions of Penn State meet the Ptitsburgh Panthers in the Smoky City on Thanksgiving day. It hasn't been a good season at State College, as far as football victories go, and "Bez" would love to end the year in a blaze of glory by slipping over a surprise defeat on Jock Sutherland's boys.

Six years ago, when "Pop" Warner was coaching Pitt, Penn State fooled the Panthers by throwing a forward pass from behind their own goal line and scoring a touchdown on a long run. Pitt expected the Staters to punt and crowded ten men up on the line in the hopes of blocking the kick. Instead, Fullback Harold Hess arched a neat little 25-yard pass to Bob Higgins, who ran unmolested for a score. That incident is only one of many that might be told to illustrate Hugo Bezdek's strategy.

Bezdek was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1906. There he starred as a plunging fullback, who knew not what the word "fear" meant. Ten years later, as coach at the University of Oregon, he made the east sit up and take notice when he administered a decisive defeat to a strong Pennsylvania team in the annual New Year's day game at Pasadena, Cal. Later, Bezdek coached another team that played in an east-west game at Pasadena; for, on January 1, 1923, his Penn State boys lost to Southern California. It was before this game that Bezdek invited Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson of U. S. C. to take off his glasses so that he (Bezdek) could take a punch at his nose.

Hugo went to Penn State in 1919 after two years as manager of the Pittsburgh baseball team. He introduced a system of mass athletics and sports for all that at once made him popular. "Bez" is an "iron man" and still quite able to toss his pupils around on the football field. At Oregon, it is said, he used to hurt more of his football team in practice than their opponents did in the games. But while that roughness has worn off, he still retains his sense of humor, his colorful personality and his good sportsmanship.

Feg Murray Says—

"Outside the church, the finest thing we've got is good, clean football."—Knute Rockne.

At least, it was when the "Praying Colonels" were all the rage.

GRADUATION TO DEPLETE RANKS

for this season. The leg responded to treatment and Thomas was converted into a lineman by Coach Bridenbaugh.

It was evident that his driving power had been lessened by his misfortune and yet his defensive ability was of great value to the line. Thomas has filled in at left guard this season and has proven himself to be as good a lineman as he was a backfield man. The chance for Thomas came when Carl Ulrich veteran guard from last year was injured on the kickoff of the opening game of the year.

Klaber Passes Out.

Clarence Klaber, stellar halfback on this year's team, will also wind up his high school career in the Academy game. Klaber, a member of the team for the past three years has been a tower of strength to the locals. Klaber is a line plunger of the highest degree and there is not one man to say that this popular youngster has not been invaluable to the team from a defensive standpoint. Klaber is one of the hardest fighters on the team, he is always in the game up to his ears and never quits trying. Klaber works hard and his playing has been of the kind that goes to make up real teams. The passing of the West Side chap leaves a big hole in the backfield for next year, a place that will be hard to fill. Klaber started the season at quarterback, but after the Mars game was transferred to a halfback berth where he has performed all year in a most capable manner. It was found that Klaber's best game was lacking when weighted down with the duties of a signal barker. Klaber is a quite unassuming chap well liked by all who come in contact with him, and is one of the most popular members of the squad.

Robert Millison, giant tackle, uncovered by Coach Bridenbaugh at the start of the 1925 season, will graduate in June. Millison has been one of the real mainstays of the line. The work of this youth has helped the team over many rough places. Standing over the 6-foot mark and carrying something like 180 pounds of beef and brawn, Millison has been a fine man on the defense as well as the offense and his passing will leave a big hole in the line that will be mighty hard to fill.

William "Bill" Kirk, another tackle of giant stature, also passes from the picture next June. Kirk while not a regular, is one of the most capable substitutes that Coach Bridenbaugh has on the bench and the red-haired youth is always eager to enter the fray. Kirk has filled in at tackle, guard and center, and has proven his worth in all three departments. Kirk is a willing worker and comes of a family that has produced three football players for New Castle high, 'Andy' and Howard having preceded him.

Others to Play Final Game.

Others who will enter the Academy high game with the possibility that it will be their final game under the Red and Black colors are McGrath, this year's left end. McGrath is a newcomer to high school fotoball, but in his first year at the game the youngster has set a name for himself. McGrath is rated as one of the best ends that New Castle high has had in many years. He is a tall rangy type of player and a real power on the terminal end of the line.

Dickson, Sandifer, Jones, W. Mott and Tom Farrow also graduate this year. The five mentioned boys have filled in as substitutes this year and have given a fine account of themselves. The passing of this crew will be missed just as much as the regulars.

Hard Workout.

Coach Bridenbaugh sent the team through a stiff scrimmage session Monday afternoon at Franklin field and the boys were ready to call it quits about 5 o'clock. The New Castle team to a man desires a victory as the closing issue of the season and they realize that in Erie Academy high they are meeting a team that ranks with the best in the northwest section of the state.

Another strenuous workout is scheduled for tonight at Franklin field with a light signal drill on Wednesday afternoon.

Joe Wolf Real Hard Luck Man At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 23.—A wolf at the door, a hoodoo ever on hand, or nemesis that sticks closer than a brothher has followed Joe Wolf of Cleveland, O., a member of the basketball and football squads at Westminster college, ever since he started his athletic career.

While at Allegheny college from which institution he transferred to Westminster, Wolf received injuries in football that forced him to the sidelines for a part of the season. Last winter, after giving the most promise of any of the court candidates, Joe was taken to the Shenango Valley hospital at New Castle for an operation and could not play for the remainder of the season.

Fully recovered this fall he reported for football practice, only to receive injuries in the Pitt game that have kept him in bed ever since. Now, with the basketball season looming up Joe who was counted on as the most logical winner of a place on the team will not be able to play this year.

The white race will keep the reins unless the yellow races act white and the white act yellow.

Continue Probe In Death Of Girl At White Owl Inn

Officials Hold Ten Persons For Questioning In Girls Death

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 23.—County authorities today discounted the story that Helen Bolan, 25, Jacksonville, Fla., had been killed during a holdup of the White Owl Inn near Butztown Sunday night.

An investigation, police say, revealed blood spots throughout the building. The proprietress of the inn, Mrs. Evelyn Dolan, told police three men entered the place Sunday night and after cowing her guests by firing a number of shots through the building, went through the house firing at random until they emptied their guns. Two of the shots fired struck Miss Bolan wounding her fatally.

County authorities, however, after a preliminary investigation believe a fight ensued before the slaying took place.

Mrs. Dolan and the nine other persons in the place when the intruders are alleged to have invaded the inn are being held in the Northamption jail pending completion of the investigation. Two state policemen are among those being held.

DUMP GARBAGE IN PUBLIC PLACE

Joe Calcoski of 134½ West Long avenue, and his roommate, were ordered in before Mayor William H. Dunlap Monday afternoon by Sanitary Officer L. S. Hoon. They were charged with dumping garbage on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad property. The case has been held under advisement by the mayor.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Naval Warfare on The Potomac.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE FIRST ACTION OF THE CIVIL WAR IN WHICH THE NAVAL FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES TOOK AN ACTIVE PART OCCURRED ON THE POTOMAC RIVER IN THE SPRING OF 1861. THE VIRGINIA SHORE OF THE RIVER WAS CONFEDERATE SOIL AND THE FEDERALS FOUND IT HARD TO KEEP OPEN THE WATERWAY FROM WASHINGTON TO THE CHESAPEAKE.

WHEN THE CONFEDERATES SEIZED THE UNITED STATES NAVY YARD AT NORFOLK, GREAT NUMBERS OF HEAVY GUNS FELL INTO THEIR HANDS AND ENABLED THEM TO PLANT FORMIDABLE BATTERIES ALONG THE POTOMAC. THE STRONGEST OF THESE POSITIONS WAS AT AQUIA CREEK AND FOR A LONG WHILE IT MENACED FEDERAL NAVIGATION.

TO PATROL THE RIVER THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAD BUT A FEW ARMED RIVER STEAMERS THAT WERE ALMOST USELESS AGAINST THE POWERFUL SHORE BATTERIES. THE FIRST ENGAGEMENT TOOK PLACE ON MAY 29, 1861, WHEN COMMANDER WARD MADE A GALLANT BUT FUTILE ATTEMPT TO BOMBARD THE CONFEDERATE GUNNERS FROM THEIR EMPLACEMENTS AT AQUIA CREEK.

COMMANDER WARD WAS THE FIRST FEDERAL NAVAL OFFICER TO LOSE HIS LIFE IN THE WAR. HE WAS KILLED ON JUNE 27, 1861, OFF MATHIAS POINT WHILE HIS LITTLE FLEET WAS ENDEAVORING TO COVER THE RETREAT OF A UNION LANDING PARTY THAT HAD BEEN ATTACKED BY THE CONFEDERATES.

Asks For Audit Of Allegheny County Books

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Sensational charges of secret payrolls, the use of county funds for unseating candidates and excessive expenditures for county automobiles were hurled by County Controller Charles McGovern in asking county commissioners today to appropriate $10,000 for an independent audit of the books of his office.

The controller asserted records showed that $1,800 was appropriated for elections in 1923 and 1926 $21,000 was the appropriation for election work.

McGovern charged that the wide difference in the two sums represented money used for political slush funds to defeat anti-administration candidates.

County Commissioner E. V. Babcock moved that the matter be taken under advisement and referred to the county solicitor for an opinion as to whether an appropriation would be legal.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Stimulated by further signs of improvement in the money situation, the industrial stocks which led Monday's closing rally reached higher price levels at the beginning of trading today. There were a few contrary movements, but the trend of prices was distinctly upward.

The expansion in speculative borrowing in the week ended November 17 was only $6,000,000, notwithstanding heavy buying of stocks in that period. This was regarded as a very favorable factor in the Wall Street district. Call money rates were unchanged at 4½ per cent, but funds were available at lower rates in the outside market.

U. S. Steel and General Motors were the leaders in the market's activity, but prices advanced only fractionally. Universal Pipe preferred sold up 3 points to 86½, completing a gain of 22⅛ points on the move, while Federal Light and Traction reached a new high at 45½, up 15⅛ on the move. The oil stocks were slightly reactionary.

Employment Is Reported Good

Western Section Situation Is Reported As Exceptionally Good This Year

By G. ROSS DOWNING.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—With the advent of cold weather and an increasing demand for bituminous coal the employment situation throughout the state, but especially in the western section was reported as exceptionally good according to the bi-monthly summary for the first two weeks of November made public today by the State Department of Labor and Industry.

With the exception of the building and construction lines all branches of industry have enjoyed generally good conditions for the two-week period. The approach of the holiday season has stimulated activity in some branches of labor according to the various labor offices.

Many bituminous mines which had ben closed for years have been reopened recently on the strength of both domestic and foreign demands for bituminous coal. Congestion at the wharves has held up temporary the output from some sections.

Anthracite products also have ben in good demand causing the labor conditions in the anthracite fields to be above the average for this season of the year. In the Scranton district all industrial lines have reported prosperity in unison with the mining situation.

Reports of shortage of good common labor have come from several industrial centers of the state. Especially has this been true for outside work. Although the wages for inside laborers are much lower than those paid for outside workers many men have drifted to the inside jobs as winter came on.

The textile mills in most instances have been operating with full forces of workers. There has been reported some slackening in the broad silk mills but those making other kinds of silk garments have maintained capacity operation. Clothing factories also have reported "plenty to do."

Department store demands, especially in the larger cities of the state in the face of the holiday season have taken care of a large number of semi-skilled workers. So far such demand has been slightly below that of 1925 but is pointed out that the latter half of this month will see an unusual rush in these lines which may eclipse the 1925 condition.

Unemployment in the building and construction was reported as being larger than usual for the fall season. Industrial curtailment in Erie has resulted in a number of idle workers. Philadelphia reported a fairly good demand for such workers. The entire western section of the state has shown little activity in building and construction during the past two weeks as compared with the same period of 1925.

Probe Alleged Bond Fraud Plot

Uncover Alleged Plan To Victimize Twenty Leading Wall Street Institutions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. — Investigation continued today in the million-dollar bond fraud plot to victimize twenty leading Wall Street institutions, which was uncovered by the National Surety Company. Losses to date are placed at $240,000, but all New York losses, it was announced, are covered by insurance.

The alleged leader of the swindle is under arrest in Denver, police there announced. He is Earl A. Pivan, 28, advertising man, social leader, officer of the A. E. F., and one of the leading sales consultants in Denver.

Denver police admitted that Pivan admitted obtaining $250,000 in government bonds and other gilt-edged securities from New brokers in return for the fake bonds, and that he was negotiating with London bankers to buy $208,000 of the "securities."

Police charged that Pivan donned a jet black mustache and a carefully fitted wig, and assumed the alias of "C. A. Coe, broker," when he passed the worthless securities.

Pivan, police charged, had $1,000,000 worth of spurious bonds printed and negotiated with members of the original sales syndicate to sell them.

Mexico Whaling Fleet Starts Big Expedition

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Cal., Nov. 23.—Predicting a kill of more than 600 whales, the fleet of the Mexico Whaling corporation left here recently for Magdalena bay in Lower California.

Three killers, Norrona II, Hanka and Columbus, with the combination tanker and factory ship Esperanca composed the fleet.

Blue whales and finbacks are expected to constitute the "catch" which last year yielded 15,000 barrels of oil.

MAN REVIVES, DRAGS WIFE, UNCONSCIOUS FROM BLAZING AUTO

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 23. — Knocked unconscious when their automobile skidded and overturned on the Somerset pike near Jennerstown, George H. McFeaters, chief electrician of the Lorain Steel Company, and his wife, Mrs. McFeaters of this city, narrowly escaped being burned to death, the machine catching fire.

McFeaters reviving and discovering the car ablaze, broke a rear window and dragged his wife to safety. The machine was destroyed, causing a loss of about $3,000.

He who laughs last is probably the one who intended to tell the same funny story himself a little later.

Nome Gold Mines Show An Increase

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Nov. 23.—Although mining operators were greatly handicapped by a dry season and scarcity of water, gold production of Nome and the surrounding district will be nearly a half million dollars more this year than last, according to the Alaska department of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. More extensive dredging operations is responsible for the increased output.

The chamber's information is based on a report made by R. W. J. Reed, deputy collector of customs at Nome, which shows that up to November 1, 89,036 ounces of gold valued at $1,616,663, had been shipped from that port to the states. This does not cover production for the entire season as the report is made before the mining season closes.

The report also shows that there was 22,700 pounds of placer tin shipped from Tin City, near Nome, where dredging operations have been under way during the past year.

Exports from Nome included 753,716 pounds of reindeer meat, 154 live reindeer and 138,000 pounds of canned and salted fish.

Twenty-three American and seven foreign seagoing vessels arrived and departed from Nome during the season. The arriving ships brought 590 passengers and 715 passengers departed.
